

B.C. Will Retire 125 Employees By March 31

The B.C. Government will retire before March 31 next all women civil servants of 60 years or more and all men employees of 65 years or more.

It is estimated more than 125 employees, including several department heads and senior officials, will be retired by the new order. Some of these may be re-employed for a short period.

Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson announced today the signing of an order-in-council to proclaim section 69 of the Civil Service Act compelling the retirement of the employees before March 31.

The application of the compulsory retirement section of the Civil Service Act will affect a considerable number of provincial civil servants.

Mr. Pearson said there was provision for reappointment of civil servants for not more than one year after termination of the war. The war is not yet officially declared terminated.

Reappointments may be made of technical personnel which the commission is not able to replace immediately.

Retirement of civil servants who have been employed by the government less than 10 years is the chief concern of the government, since these workers do not qualify for pension.

A considerable number of older employees were taken on here during the war to fill positions left by younger men and women to go to war.

Relatives of Phyllis Stroud Tell Of V-J Night, When She Was Last Seen Alive

Conversations with Charles Kinney after the disappearance of Phyllis Stroud were recalled in Assize Court today by the dead girl's sister Doris, at Kinney's trial on a charge of murder.

Throughout the testimony of Doris Stroud and her father, brother and uncle, young Kinney sat in the dock with the same calm attitude that characterized his appearance in court Monday and at preliminary hearing in city police court.

Doris, answering the questions of Crown Prosecutor R. D. Harvey, K.C., in a subdued voice, her hands clasped tightly on her lap, described the living arrangements in her home on Roseberry Avenue. She also described events on V-J Day, when her sister disappeared.

Telling of seeing Phyllis in the late afternoon of V-J Day, Doris fought back tears. For a moment she was unable to speak. Phyllis left to go to town, wearing a flowered dress, red and white canvas shoes, a grey jacket and a narrow white belt. Doris testified. She identified the shoes, belt and jacket, entered as exhibits.

She said that in the evening of V-J Day, she, her father and uncle had gone to Beacon Hill Park, the Crystal Garden, and a cafe, leaving the cafe about 10.30.

Then, Doris testified, they had walked about town for a time.

"It was around a quarter after 11," Doris stated, that she and her father and uncle got aboard a street-car to go home. It took 10 to 15 minutes to walk from the street-car to the house, she estimated.

She went right to sleep on going to bed, Doris said, and did not find her sister in bed with her on awakening the next morning.

Clutching the side of the witness-box, Doris testified she had not seen her sister alive again. She identified a large black purse as belonging to Phyllis, a ring that Phyllis had worn, and some trinkets, among them her sister's high school graduation pin.

The day after Phyllis' disappearance, Doris testified, she had telephoned home and had asked Charles Kinney if Phyllis was home. "He said, 'Just a minute,'" and called to my brother and asked if Phyllis was home, and then came back and said no," Doris testified.

On another occasion, Doris said, Charles Kinney had told her that one night he had seen Phyllis acting rather strangely at the telephone.

"He said she told him she was afraid she was mixed up with some bootleggers or something," Doris testified.

Asked by H. W. Davey, K.C., defence counsel, at what time she got home on V-J night, Doris said she believed the time had been about 10 or 15 minutes to 12.

FATHER GIVES EVIDENCE

Doris had been on the witness stand for nearly an hour before cross-examination ended and Carroll Stroud, father of Phyllis, was called.

Mr. Stroud testified that the last time he had seen Phyllis was before going to work as a caddy on V-J Day. When he returned from work at 4.45 p.m., he said, he found Doris at home. He described going to town for the V-J evening celebrations.

"It was probably a quarter to 12 when we arrived home," he said.

"When we got home the house was in darkness."

At about 6.35 the next morning, he testified, he called Doris and noticed that she was alone.

G. H. Sedger cross-examined Mr. Stroud for the defence.

In reply to questions by Mr. Justice J. M. Coady, Mr. Stroud said that if anyone was in his house, the front door would normally be left unlocked until the last occupant came in.

Lawrence Stroud, uncle of Phyllis, described his activities on V-J Day and evening. He said the house had been dark on arrival home.

Donald Stroud told of seeing his sister, Phyllis, leaving for town with a young friend, Shirley Heller, in the late afternoon of August 15.

Donald identified a grey tweed jacket which he said he had given his sister for her last birthday.

"Yes," he said, in reply to a question from Mr. Harvey, who wanted to know if he had been fond of his sister, and had often given her presents.

During the 10-minute recess which followed, spectators in the crowded galleries stood up to stretch, but didn't move from their seats for fear of losing them.

SAW PHYLLIS TO BUS

Next witness called by the prosecution was Shirley Heller, who told the court she had spent V-J Day with Phyllis. They had spent the evening in town together and she had seen Phyllis to the bus at the corner of Yates and Douglas streets, but had not seen her board the bus.

Mr. Harvey asked Miss Heller if Phyllis had used cosmetics. She replied the girl had used Tangee lipstick and powder "sometimes."

Miss Heller described the type of container in which the lipstick came and said one produced by Mr. Harvey was similar.

Fifteen-year-old Anne Norma Giddy, said she had known Phyllis and had seen her in the bus line-up on V-J night at the corner of Yates and Douglas and again when they had alighted from a bus at Haultain and Fernwood Roads.

Jean Giddy, 13, sister of the preceding witness, told the court she, too, had seen Phyllis in the line-up and again when they had left the bus.

Kathleen Jean Giddy, mother of the two girls, said she had gone to look for them at 11 on V-J night. She estimated she had returned home about half an hour later and found them already there.

Charles Giddy, father of the girls, said he had come back from looking for the girls at 20 minutes to 12 and had found them already home.

CARRIED BLACK PURSE

Beryl Jones told the court she had known Phyllis by sight and had seen her on a bus which had left town about 11.15. Mrs. Jones said Phyllis had been wearing a print dress, tweed jacket and that she had been carrying a large black purse. She said a purse shown her by the prosecution might have been similar to the one carried by the girl.

Frederick Natrass, B.C. Electric traffic inspector, testified that traffic had been heavy on V-J night and that streetcars had been running behind schedule.

Hearing Thursday

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Preliminary hearing of A. J. Bowell, New Westminster city comptroller and treasurer for 26 years, on a charge of theft of $60,000 from city funds, was adjourned until Thursday in police court today. He is out on bail of $15,000.

Chester Bowles, O.P.A. Chief, U.S., Feared Killed

NEW YORK (AP)—Chester A. Bowles, 44, multimillionaire New York industrialist and board chairman of Continental Industries, Inc., is believed to have been killed when his private twin-motored airplane crashed into the Hudson River here late Monday, his office said today.

The following also were believed killed:

Capt. Jerome Casper, former Mediterranean flier, recently employed by Mr. Bowles as his private pilot.

Andrew H. Blass of Pittsburgh, independent financial consultant to Continental Industries.

Walter H. Hurley, an auditor with the New York accounting firm of West, Flint & Company.

Crews of two police launches which searched the river all night, reported they had been unable to locate the wreckage of the bodies of any victims.

De Gaulle Confers With Party Chiefs; Declines Comment

Shares in parleys... Maurice Thorez.

PARIS (AP)—Gen. de Gaulle today conferred with leaders of the three main parties in the French Constituent Assembly in his efforts to form a coalition government.

No declaration was immediately forthcoming as to whether progress had been made in reconciling Communist demands for a policy of "cabinet post" and Gen. de Gaulle's avowed opposition.

Prior to the conference with the interim President, the Communist parliamentary group met and announced it remained firm in its request for one of three ministries—foreign affairs, war or interior.

The Communists made one concession in announcing acceptance of the Socialist amendment adopted by the Assembly Monday calling for tripartite government. Communists had abstained Monday in voting on this point.

The delegation which saw Gen. de Gaulle included: Jacques Duclos; Maurice Thorez and Florimond Bonjean, Communists; Vincent Auriol, Daniel Mayer and Andre Philip, Socialists; and Maurice Schumann, Francisque Gay and Andre Colin, of the Mouvement Republicain Populaire.

Gen. de Gaulle declined comment.

The general was scheduled to receive Thorez, Mayer and Schumann one by one for individual interviews later in the day.

Gale Warning

Weather officials issued a report of gale-force winds blowing this morning in Queen Charlotte Sound, Hecate Strait, Dixon Entrance and waters of the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The officials said southeast winds were expected to increase to 35 to 45 miles per hour, veering to southwest 20 to 25 miles per hour late this afternoon.

Indonesian-Held Roadways Raked By R.A.F. Fighters

BATAVIA, Java (AP)—Indonesian-held roadways into Semarang were bombed by six R.A.F. fighter planes today, and fighting between native and Allied forces broke out in several sections of Batavia.

The official Netherlands news agency Aneta reported authorities expressed belief that a considerable number of young Indonesians belonging to the Peremuda, an organization armed by the Japanese during the occupation, were pouring into the capital by train.

Allied authorities had lost control of the railway stations. The action about Semarang was the first aerial offensive against the city in the current fighting.

The Indonesians had barricaded the selves across three roads which formed the only contact between two Indian forces which were attempting to link up against stiff resistance.

After an overnight staff conference, British planes dropped 10,000 leaflets on the town, warning the people to leave before the R.A.F. struck. They were given 90 minutes' notice.

Russians Turn Back Iranian Force Sent To Quell Uprising

TEHRAN (AP)—Iranian troops dispatched to Azerbaijan province to quell separatist disturbances there were halted at Kazvin today by Russian authorities and ordered to return to Tehran, the Iranian government said.

Four battalions of troops and gendarmes had been moving slowly northward from Tehran, apparently with the tacit consent of the Russian army commander, to quell the outbreak in which seven already had been reported killed.

The troops moving to reinforce government garrisons consisted of two infantry battalions, one battalion of motorized troops, and one battalion of gendarmes, the latter accompanied by two United States advisers from Col. Norman Schwarzkopf's police advisory mission in Iran.

A government communique said the situation was calm at Zenjan, Astara and Ardabil.

CHARGE SLANDER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia today branded as "slandering" reports from abroad stating the Russians had supplied arms to separatists in the northern Iranian province of Azerbaijan.

Izvestia said editorially that the reports resulted from an effort to conceal the effect of Azerbaijan elections and also to distract attention from anti-British disorders in Palestine and Egypt and "a people's uprising" in Indonesia.

Story of Murder, Plunder, Torture Recited In Court

By DANIEL DE LUCE

NUERNBERG (AP)—A strangely assorted score of gloomy Nazis sat dejectedly today before an international military tribunal and heard themselves formally accused of war crimes, the murder of 10,000,000 Europeans, plunder, horror and torture.

Throughout the opening session of the historic trial for their lives, Hitlerian followers such as corpulent Hermann Goering, vague Rudolf Hess and defiant Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel listened through earphones while spokesmen of the countries which crushed their hierarchy recited crimes the world had never before witnessed.

By turns, prosecutors of Great Britain, the United States, France and Russia droned through the four counts of the 24,000-word indictment accusing the last of the leading Nazis of conspiracy to commit crimes against the peace, actual commission of crimes against the peace, war crimes and crimes against humanity.

Even the appendices containing individual charges against the 20 defendants were read, meaning that the men who terrorized Europe only a year ago could not be arraigned until the Wednesday session.

The Nazis sometimes sat with earphones clamped on to hear translations in German piped to them as the prosecutors read in English French and Russian. Robed lawyers sat beside them.

Of the 24 originally indicted, one is missing, two are too ill to attend and one committed suicide. Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, is being tried in absentia. Robert Ley, the labor leader, took his own life. Ernst Kaltenbrunner of the Gestapo and Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach are ill.

Each Defendant Must Enter Plea

After the indictments are read in full, each defendant will plead either "guilty" or "not guilty." Then the prosecution will make its opening statement.

Rudolf Hess, an almost impish grin playing about his sunken mouth, was lined up in the dock with the Nazi defendants—20 in all.

What disposition the tribunal would make of the reports of alienists on Hess' mental condition had yet to be announced. But the former Hitler deputy seemed at moments almost frivolous as the proceedings got under way.

After the recess, British Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence presiding, announced the trial would continue without the presence of Ernst Kaltenbrunner, former Nazi security police chief, who has suffered a cranial hemorrhage.

The black-gowned defence counsel listened intently to every word that was spoken, but their clients, as strangely garbed as a cast of beggars in an opera, exhibited varying emotions.

From the paunchy prima donna

Goering Bored, Removes Headphones

Goering, his fat countenance bored and composed, soon removed his earphones. Grand Admiral Erich Raeder and Walter Funk, former Reichsbank president, continued to use the translating device.

Goering nodded non-committally when Prosecutor Alderman referred to his overriding control of German economy in preparation for armed aggression after 1936.

The prosecution tables were crowded. Justice Jackson sat at the head of the U.S. delegation. Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe headed Britain's delegation, while Col. Yuri Pokrovsky and Charles Dubost were sitting as temporary chief prosecutors for Russia and France.

At Mr. Alderman's mention of anti-Jewish fulminations during the prewar period by Rosenberg, that defendant hurriedly replaced his earphones. Julius Streicher, No. 1 Nazi Jew-baiter, sat bolt upright when he was named in the indictment.

Ribbentrop Faints; Taken From Court

NUERNBERG (AP)—The former German Foreign Minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, collapsed late in the afternoon session of the war trials here and had to be given sedatives. He was taken from the crowded court chamber for 20 minutes after he had complained of dizziness and acute pain from facial neuralgia. Doctors said he would be ready for tomorrow's session.

"The room was too close," Ribbentrop said. "I'd been sitting too long."

Long-Distance Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—A B-29 which came from Guam without a stop landed here this afternoon. The U.S. Army Air Forces immediately claimed a world distance record.

The plane hit the runways at the national airport at 12.35 p.m. C.S.T., approximately 35 hours and some 8,000 miles after it left Guam.

The recognized distance record is 7,158.44 miles, set by Britain in 1938 in a flight from Egypt to Australia.

Two weeks ago four planes flew non-stop from the Japanese island of Hokkaido to Washington, a distance of about 6,700 miles.

And last month three Superfortresses, carrying three generals, flew non-stop from Hokkaido to Chicago, 5,995 miles. They were forced down by lack of fuel. After refueling, they came on to Washington.

Lipstick Stains,
Sawdust, Described
At Kinney Trial

Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, Vancouver police analyst, was on the witness stand for more than two hours Monday in the trial of Charles Kinney at the Fall Assizes on a charge of murdering Phyllis Stroud.

He identified exhibits entered in evidence by the Crown Prosecutor, R. D. Harvey, K.C., and cross-questioned by Defence Counsel H. W. Davey, K.C., explained how he had conducted his examinations.

Inspector Vance told the court that lipstick marks found by him on a man's handkerchief were the same as those found on other articles which he had identified. He said a shoe impression found on a bedsheet was similar to an impression he had taken of a man's shoe. He pointed out that a partly-worn trademark on the heel of one of the shoes brought him by Detective Munro also showed on the bedsheet.

Mr. Vance said a man's trousers and shoes which he had examined in connection with the case had contained sawdust. He had also examined a girl's brown jacket and sandals finding sawdust on them, too.

He added that the trousers which he described as "outside" had contained a handkerchief bearing lipstick marks in one of the pockets.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Davey he told the court that after examining the basement windows he believed it would have been impossible for a body to have been placed in the sawdust bin of the Roseberry Avenue home from the outside.

Asked by Mr. Davey why he had not examined other parts of the house, Inspector Vance replied that he had merely done what the police department had asked him to do.

The analyst agreed that any stick of the same make and color of lipstick would produce similar markings on the articles entered as exhibits.

Dr. R. R. Roxburgh, who carried out the post-mortem examination of Phyllis Stroud's body, described in detail his findings. He said the body had been in an advanced state of decomposition when he examined it.

The lungs, he said, had shown marginal bubbles of air produced by the rupture of the walls which form the air sacs, and microscopic areas of hemorrhage had confirmed that death had been due to asphyxia. Asphyxia, he told the court, might be brought about by strangulation or suffocation, and in this case the absence of neck injuries led him to believe it had been suffocation.

He said a pillow held over the mouth and nose could cause asphyxia.

Irving Strickland, photographer, identified pictures of the Stroud home which he had taken after the finding of the girl's body, and of a location in Beacon Hill Park. Mr. Justice Coady admitted a picture of a girl's body lying in the sawdust bin at 2658 Roseberry Avenue, although Mr. Davey objected that the picture might unduly influence the jury. Mr. Harvey withdrew another picture of the body to which Mr. Davey also objected.

The hearty vegetables most plentiful at this time of year become palate-tempters when prepared with a dash of imagination. Try the suggestions below for flavorful additions to your menus.

"B" IS FOR BEETS

Beets Espanol: Saute chopped beets until crisp then add 1 chopped onion, 1 chopped green pepper and finely cut parsley. Cook until limp. Add 2 cups tomato juice, 3 cups diced cooked beets and season to taste with salt, pepper, and cayenne. Simmer until sauce is thickened, about 1 hour. Serves 6 to 8.

"C" IS FOR CARROTS

Glossed with Apples: Melt butter in heavy frying pan. Add equal amounts of sliced carrot and unpeeled apple. Sprinkle with brown sugar or drizzle with honey. Cover; cook slowly until tender, about 25 minutes.

"O" IS FOR ONIONS

Bouillon-Boiled Silver Onions: Bring to a boil, 3 cups meat stock (or use beef extract to make 3 cups bouillon). Add 1 pound whole small silver onions and cook, uncovered, until tender or about 25 minutes. Serves 6.

"P" IS FOR PARSNIPS

Parsnips Creole: Melt 1 tablespoon of butter in a heavy frying pan, or kettle. Add 2 cups diagonally sliced celery, 2½ cups ½-inch cubed parsnips and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook for 5 minutes. Add 1 cup canned tomatoes, breaking up larger chunks, cover and simmer for about 20 minutes or until parsnips are just tender. Serves 6.

"R" IS FOR RUTABAGAS

In Salad: Combine grated raw yellow turnips or rutabagas with carrots, celery, and string beans. Add grated onion for zest, season to taste and toss lightly with mayonnaise. Garnish with pickled beet slices. Serve at once, on a bed of lettuce.

"S" IS FOR SQUASH

Squash with Citrus Fruit: In a well-greased casserole, arrange in alternate layers well-seasoned, mashed, cooked squash or pumpkin and grapefruit or orange sections. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes or until heated through.

53 War Trucks For B.C. Farmers

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fifty-three war surplus trucks have been allotted to British Columbia farmers by the War Assets Corporation, C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, said Monday.

Mr. Hayden said the federation had been negotiating with the Assets Corporation for several months in an effort to get trucks for direct sale to farmers in B.C. A further attempt is being made to get additional trucks, including heavy types.

First 200 Men of Occupation Forces On Way Home for Leave

OTTAWA (CP) — The first 200 men from occupation and administration forces overseas now are on their way back to Canada for 30 clear days' rotation leave, because general repatriation is ahead of schedule, but there still is need for caution in any speculation that all servicemen will be home much before the March target, a high service official said today.

He was commenting on an Amsterdam dispatch, which said "virtually all Canadian troops in Belgium, Holland and Germany — except those connected with the occupation force — were expected to be on their way home by Jan. 15, 1946."

ATLANTIC PROBLEM

He believed the Jan. 15 date was conservative, as his information was that all but the occupation force of 22,000 men and the 10,000 general headquarters, line of communication and other key personnel, would be out of northwest Europe by Dec. 31.

"But," he cautioned, "that means only that they will be in Britain — waiting for transatlantic passage home. And we must not be too optimistic about the tight Atlantic shipping allocations. I don't think there is anything yet to indicate these men will be back in Canada very much before the March target."

Defence Minister Abbott said in the Commons, Oct. 16, that March or April of next year should see all Canadians repatriated.

ated from Europe, with the exception of occupation troops and staffs in England. This meant 153,000 men would have to be moved.

From VE-Day to Oct. 16, 111,700 troops had returned from the European zone, leaving fewer than 175,000 there — a number somewhat lower than July predictions. About 22,000 of the 175,000 would be left behind indefinitely in the occupation force.

The air force last week had more than 25,000 men overseas — 10,000 of whom will remain indefinitely in the occupation force.

The navy, with no occupation force as such, has only a small number of men overseas — chiefly at the naval mission in London, or in Canadian ships. However, this service solves its own repatriation problem, and is not dependent on merchant marine transports.

TERM UNKNOWN

Mr. Abbott has indicated no decision has been made on how long the army of occupation — composed of both volunteers and selectees — will serve. Air Minister Gibson, however, is on record as saying the airmen in the occupation force will be overseas one or two years.

Meanwhile, volunteers in the occupation forces are being brought home to Canada for 30 days in a revival of the rotation leave program, by which long-service personnel were relieved while the war was in progress.

To Stop Chlorinating Vancouver Water

VANCOUVER (CP) — The city council Monday endorsed a motion by Mayor J. W. Cornett to cease the chlorination of Vancouver's water system as soon as possible.

In approving the motion, the committee refused a motion by Ald. H. L. Corey that the machinery be left available for use should the bacteria count at any time reveal necessity for purification.

Ald. George Buscombe said that "almost 60 years should satisfy any reasonable person that there is nothing wrong with Vancouver's water."

6 Escapees Hunted

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Six men, all with long police records, escaped from the Essex County jail here today after overpowering a turnkey and a night watchman.

Sheriff A. A. Marentette said the men escaped shortly after 6 a.m. when they sawed their way out of their cells. They are believed to have fled the city in a stolen automobile.

The sheriff said watchman George Renaud was overpowered after the cell escape and that later when turnkey Charles Smith walked through the jail to open the kitchen the men jumped on him and took his keys.

Smith and Renaud were locked up in the jail office. The prisoners left the building after exchanging their jail coveralls for street clothes they found on the premises.

Prosecutions May Follow Probe Of Canadian Deals In Uranium

OTTAWA (CP) — Charges will be laid and the accused prosecuted if any wrongdoing is found in past transactions of the Eldorado Mining Company, source of uranium, the atomic energy base, Munitions Minister Howe told the Commons Monday night.

Mr. Howe made the statement in defending two government orders-in-council which appointed an investigator, J. Grant Glasco of Toronto, to inquire into dealings of the company, before it was taken over by the government in January, 1944, to ensure a source of the vital material for atomic bomb production.

He was replying, during consideration of Munitions Department estimates in the war appropriation bill, to charges by John Diefenbaker, P.C., Lake Centre, Sask., that the orders were a "gross interference" with the rights of the individual because they allowed the investigator to do anything he wished in his inquiry.

Mr. Howe reviewed the industrial aspect of Canada's war effort and recapitulated figures showing estimated expenditures for the present fiscal year at $282,000,000, including $175,000,000 as the cost of terminating contracts.

Answering questions from members about various functions of the Munitions Department, Mr. Howe said it was planned eventually to dissolve the Park Stearnships, a government company, and sell as many as possible of its 154 vessels to Canadian purchasers. Five already had been sold for $350,000 each.

In the postwar period Canada would operate every ship whether privately or publicly owned, for which cargoes could be found, but it would be difficult to do this for export trade because it was customary for the buyer of cargo to determine the vessel which would carry it.

He described the postwar prospects of Canadian shipping as "good" and said they would have no difficulty getting business.

The government proposed to assist the industry "as much as possible."

"Very serious" consideration was being given to the possibility of appointing a maritime commission to handle matters connected with the merchant marine. This question now was under study by an interdepartmental committee which also was considering the selection of suitable personnel for such a board.

HOUSING COMPLAINTS

The Munitions Minister said he had heard many complaints about wartime housing from people who had little knowledge of it, but very few from the tenants.

He was answering Alistair Stewart, C.C.F., Winnipeg North, who said the houses were potential slums, the company had been dictatorial and did not comply with city by-laws in Winnipeg.

Mr. Howe said he wished Mr. Stewart could convince "people of his own political faith" in the Winnipeg City Council of his views. The council was pressing for more and more houses.

He said it was true the houses were inferior, but they were intended to be the minimum standard of comfort for the present time. They could be equipped with basements, but the rent would be about $6 a month higher.

"We are the only people who are building homes to rent for $23 to $31 a month," said Mr. Howe.

AIR MAIL CRITICISM

In the Senate Monday Senator W. M. Aseltine, P.C., Saskatchewan, said the government should investigate air mail service in Canada because "something is seriously wrong."

He said the service was "very unsatisfactory" due to repeated delays in delivery. As an example, he cited the instance of a letter airmailed to him at Ottawa from Rosetown, Sask., on a Saturday. It was not delivered until Wednesday of the following week.

The INTERNATIONAL SCENE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press
Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the outstanding characteristics of the Japanese and German war lords, as is being brought out in the investigation into the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on Pearl Harbor and through the discovery of secret Nazi records, is their cold-blooded duplicity.

There was—and is—no honesty among them. We see that in the callous trickery which Hitler, Goering and other Nazi leaders used in annexing little Austria while they kept the rest of Europe quiet with double-talk. We see it in the Japanese treachery in striking at the Pearl Harbor naval base behind the shield of peace negotiations at Washington.

Every day emphasizes the necessity of removing these war-mongers from society. It is gratifying, therefore, to see the Nuremberg trials of top Nazis opening today before the International War Crimes Tribunal. It is equally satisfactory to learn that Baron Gen. Honjo, repudiated head of the militarists who staged the conquest of Manchuria, has committed hara-kiri rather than facial as a war criminal along with numerous other militarists whom Gen. MacArthur has ordered imprisoned pending their appearance before the Allied Court of Justice.

The world will be a better place without Honjo—and without his gang who will come to trial in due course.

However, I don't think we would be very astute analysts if we placed the entire Japanese nation in the same category as Honjo. For instance, there seems no reason to doubt envoy Kurosu's word when he says he and Nomura were doing an honest job of negotiating in Washington when the Japanese war lords knifed Pearl Harbor. Kurosu and Nomura say they didn't know an attack was to be made.

But the Japanese militarists were born crooked. I ran into a startling illustration of that during the First World War.

In 1916 Wall Street and London bankers were much disturbed over a phenomenon which the financial experts could not explain. It was a steady flow of gold to Japan, which was one of the Allies. The Japanese clearly were coining gold—but why?

When financial experts had assembled all the evidence it indicated the Japanese were getting ready to desert the Allies and switch to Germany.

The reason for this trickery was quite clear. The German militarists were doing very well for themselves. The Japanese figured the Kaiser was going to win and they wanted to be in on the loot. Before they got around to desert their alliance, the tide began to turn and, then the United States came into the war. Japan did not flip over to the German side.

Hearing Thursday

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) — Preliminary hearing of Dr. Donald Watson Beach of McBride, B.C., on a charge of neglect of duty in connection with the death of Mrs. Rose Irene Soucy, 23, was adjourned Monday until Thursday, when all witnesses will be available. Mrs. Soucy died from burns suffered when a gasoline lamp exploded and destroyed her home at McBride, Oct. 4.

Baron Gen. Honjo, About To Be Arrested, Kills Himself

TOKYO (AP) — Baron Gen. Shigeru Honjo, accused war criminal and reputed ringleader in the conquest of Manchuria, committed hara-kiri today less than 24 hours after he had been ordered arrested.

The body was lying on its right side in a pool of blood in Honjo's office at the former Japanese War College when Allied reporters and photographers arrived.

Blood still oozed from the body and the hilt of his ceremonial sword thrust up from the sheet which partly covered the body. A small cup containing tea dregs was beside the body.

The old-line officer, 69 years of age, performed the Japanese hara-kiri ritual by slashing his stomach crosswise, then cutting his throat.

But instead of the ritualistic kimono, Honjo wore his army uniform. His upturned boots were highly polished.

Honjo, one of 11 war leaders of the past imperialistic decade, ordered imprisoned Monday, died shortly after his secretary had found his slashed body on his office floor.

"I cannot endure as a soldier of our country to appear before a court of Allied powers," Honjo said in a letter written shortly before he killed himself.

APOLOGIES INADEQUATE

"I find no way of apologizing to His Majesty and the people for bringing my nation to such a miserable state of affairs."

"It grieves my heart when I think of the surviving families of our men who died on battlefields."

"I therefore have decided to seek death."

The letter, addressed to his secretary, Kawamura, said it was Honjo's desire that his eldest son, Kazuo, should not succeed to his title of baron.

The retired general was serving as president of the organization for relief of demobilized soldiers although the organization had been ordered abolished by Gen. MacArthur.

Honjo's eldest son told the Kyodo news-agency his father learned of the arrest order only when he read a morning newspaper and feared he would be tried as a war criminal.

Honjo's Tokyo home was burned in a May 25 air raid. The general since had lived in an air-raid shelter in his garden. His son quoted him as remarking, "I'm old now and can do nothing for my country. It's up to the young fellows."

Morrison Outlines Nationalization Plans

LONDON (AP) — Labor Leader Herbert Morrison announced today the Attlee government intends to convert to public ownership the electric and gas industries.

tries, railways, canals and long-distance road haulage services. The Labor government previously had announced its intention to nationalize civil aviation and telecommunication services of Cable and Wireless Ltd.

Parliament also has before it a bill to nationalize the Bank of England, part of the government's socialist program. A project to control production and fix prices on farm products was launched last week. Under the plan, farmers refusing to plant crops as ordered by the Labor government would be evicted from their land.

Mr. Morrison told the Commons the Labor regime did not intend to place the shipping industry under public ownership.

GOODYEAR LIFEGUARDS ARE BACK!

Off the market during the war, this original, proven safety-tube is now being produced again

* WHAT A LIFEGUARD IS

A LifeGuard is a reserve two-ply tire built inside a tough, durable tube. LifeGuards replace ordinary inner tubes. Fit any make of tire. If a tire blows, the LifeGuard holds air long enough to bring the car to a safe, smooth stop... prevents that sickening, weaving moment of lost control that so often leads to disastrous blowout accidents.

HOW LIFEGUARDS WORK

Many a motorist owes his life to the fact that he replaced his ordinary inner tubes with Goodyear LifeGuards. Off the market during the war, LifeGuards are again in production at the Goodyear factory. The demand is great! To get these proven safety tubes for your car... see your Goodyear dealer right away... ask him to reserve a set for you.

Especially if you must drive on thin-worn tires for a while longer, make them safe from blowout dangers with LifeGuards. In any case, insist on LifeGuards for your new car. YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER PROTECTION TO SAVE YOUR LIFE.

'BUSINESS IS MOVING TO B.C.'

NOT IN OUR RECOLLECTION have the businessmen of Victoria—the young and ambitious, the middle-aged and cautious—witnessed a more impressive demonstration of community salesmanship than that which Mr. W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, presented at yesterday's joint luncheon of the Gryo Club and the Chamber of Commerce. Certainly the speaker was commendably proud of the promise and performance of the organization to which he has rendered such conspicuous service over many years. But his profound belief in British Columbia, her potentialities for enormous rural and urban expansion, and the dramatic eloquence with which he clothed his message, produced a psychological effect on a bumper audience which ought to be capitalized by frequent plain talks of a similar character.

All too few people in this province fully realize what can be accomplished by vision, initiative and practical driving force. Mr. Mainwaring extracted no mythical rabbit from a mythical hat. He was revealing no carefully concealed secrets. The statistics he used are to be found between the covers of official documents regularly turned out by the King's Printer under the seal of the provincial government. All the B.C. Electric official did was to translate statistical data into living words which the ordinary individual can understand. "Business Is Moving to B.C." was the slogan he used. It should be the concern of every Victorian, every British Columbian, to see that that phrase earns its place in the past tense as rapidly as possible. For it should not be necessary to emphasize the plain fact that this province will never realize its destiny with a population which does not number many more tens of thousands than it now supports.

WHEN THEY COME WEST

THE INHERENT RICHNESS OF CANADA, her freedom from the travails which convulse many other nations and her spaciousness have naturally impressed the weary peoples of Europe with the desirability of making this country their home. Mr. Ross Munro's dispatch from Paris emphasizing the growth of that feeling is immediately understood by Canadians. To the citizens of war-ravaged countries, this Dominion must appear to be the promised land.

But it is not only the people of Europe who look westward for the symbols of hope and security. Within Canada herself eyes are directed in the same direction by those living east of the Rockies who continue to trek to British Columbia as settlers. The trend is clearly indicated in official figures which disclose an increase in population from 606,000 in 1926 to 900,000 in 1943. That should demonstrate the strengthening of a bloodstream which will help the province to attain a growth that can only be estimated now. It seems evident, too, that Horace Greeley's advice to young men, to go west and grow up with the country, is consciously or unconsciously being accepted by mounting numbers of men returning from the armed forces. The result could easily change British Columbia from the land of opportunity it is at present to a land of mounting accomplishment. The natural resources are here and the men to develop them are coming in swelling numbers.

It would be nothing short of tragedy if finance and industry failed to combine the two for general benefit. It is freely admitted that there are obstacles. The young father with a growing family is not prepared to go willingly to areas where there are employment opportunities but few amenities for family life. That position is becoming more apparent daily, particularly in Victoria, as veterans return to take up their duties as parents. They realize the necessity of bringing a father's influence to the raising of a family, which, during war years, has been without the benefits of such guidance. And there is some heart-burning over the condition which leaves them without adequate employment opportunities in their home town. Many who would prefer to live here and raise their families would, however, be willing to take work elsewhere if living conditions and services were such that their families would not suffer unduly. Failing a guarantee of such amenities, they look with jaundiced eyes on Canadians and others migrating to British Columbia and Victoria to compete with them in the labor market.

There appears to be one answer only to the problem which is being created—greater industrial expansion in which full-time employment and security will be accorded them. Temporary work will be a palliative only. If Victoria is to enjoy its share of the development that is coming to British Columbia, it must expand its fields of employment. The tourist industry will, of course, continue to be a vital factor in bringing spending dollars to the citizens. But that is not enough. The city must break its chrysalis by activities producing permanent gainful occupations for manpower piling up here.

A MAN OF GOOD WORKS

FOR PRACTICALLY HALF A CENTURY Senator G. H. Barnard has served the community in which he has made his home, his province, and the nation as a whole. In civic office, as a member of the House of Commons, and of the Senate at Ottawa since 1917, this native son of British Columbia has given unstintingly of his labor and talents. Small wonder he feels the time has arrived for him to sit back and watch the passing scene and enjoy the rest of his days in the city to whose welfare he has contributed so much since the dawn of the century.

Mr. Barnard, the title which he will now again assume, is so well known to the people of this community and the province that any detailed allusion here to the part he has played in local expansion would be gratuitous and superfluous. No worthy cause has gone in vain for his practical support; he has taken all progressive measures in his stride; he has manifested a keen delight in the doing of good deeds. And in all his undertakings of this kind he has been enthusiastically supported by his charming wife. Thus as he resigns himself to a contemplation of a full-life of public service and generous endeavor he will have the good wishes of a vast host of friends throughout the Dominion.

CONTROL OF PRICE

AS MR. ATTLEE INDICATED TO THE Canadian Parliament yesterday, the eldest nation of the British Commonwealth is committed to the control of price as a policy which should enable Britain to recover from the ravages of war and maintain a standard of living essential to such recovery. Obviously the British Prime Minister foresees a prolonged period of rationing due to the present financial position of Britain in relation to world markets—plus the necessity of expanding exports to pay for imports, and, at the same time, developing to the fullest possible extent the domestic natural resources so as to produce from the land a certain percentage of food hitherto imported from abroad before the war.

For the time being, at any rate, the law of supply and demand in Britain is to be abrogated by the law of government control of supply and demand. The process of bargaining is to be replaced by the process of tabulation. Expansion and contraction are to be regulated by supervision and initiative to be restrained by expediency. Mr. Attlee has emphasized the necessity, however, of retaining the freedom of the press and of speech; and he undoubtedly will be insistent on the right of the people to express their opinions on the result of putting into practice the so-called planned economy he advocates.

The regulations to be translated into legislation must, under the circumstances his government faces, include fixing of wages in industry. This, in turn, entails paying for what is produced within the legal limitations imposed by hours. Strikes, which interfere with the production plans of the government, may be forbidden. The farmer, for example, who does not make proper use of his land—according to government judgment—might face expropriation proceedings for not living up to the official production level. He would then have to be provided with some other form of existence. The industrial worker cannot be privileged; he also must produce according to government decree.

Undoubtedly Mr. Attlee expects to find the method of compromise between freedom of choice and government regulation. He will experiment rather than plunge. But he will have to wet his feet in any case.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

UNLESS THOSE WHO SHOULD BE IN a position to gauge future trends are far out in their estimates, Canada is destined to witness a surge of intensified juvenile delinquency that may reach staggering proportions. The most recent voice lifted in such prophecy is that of Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College. Speaking in Vancouver to the Conference on Education for Democracy, he listed broken homes and the growing divorce rate as the causes of the unhappy development. As a remedy he suggested "adult education—and plenty of it," in home making, among other things.

Dr. Ewing doubtless put his finger on an important element in the creation of delinquency when he cited the adult practice of pursuing selfish interests as a contributing factor. And he does well to emphasize the need for more knowledge by parents as a counter-agent. But the unhappy feature of that solution seems to be that parents who need guidance most are those who are most apathetic to the information and direction that is offered. Unless some new dynamic can be found, it will be difficult to interest them in means of avoiding the chaos they are making for their youngsters.

Unquestionably major responsibility rests with the home to provide an environment in which juvenile delinquency cannot grow. And no effort should be spared to encourage family relationships which tend toward the development of early citizenship virtues in the young. But, it seems to us, that approach should not preclude other attacks on the problem. Children, who because of their years are less cynical, can be led by other forces than the home. What is required, however, is a leadership that both interests them and commands their respect. It may be found, we suggest, in the ranks of those athletes who excel at popular games but who hold sportsmanship above all other considerations. And if memory serves us right, a healthy and full program of physical activity leaves little time or energy in a youngster for diversion to reprehensible channels.

Walter Lippmann

U.S.A. IN THE MIDDLE EAST

PRESIDENT TRUMAN had no choice but to "accede" to the view of the British government that "it was not in a position to adopt the policy" he had recommended—namely to grant an additional 100,000 certificates for the immigration of Jews into Palestine. For while the United States has considerable influence in the Middle East, it does not now have responsibilities or power.

The predominant power in the Middle East is Great Britain. Not only does it hold the mandate for Palestine, but it is in fact the principal western power in relation to the whole Moslem world from Tripoli in the central Mediterranean to the Netherlands Indies in the South Pacific. The British position in this extended region of the earth is precarious. For Britain is deficient in the essential elements of authority—in prestige, in military power, and in capital resources.

HER PRESTIGE is impaired by the rising tide of nationalism among the Moslem and Hindu peoples of North Africa and South Asia. The military power which the British Isles can maintain in that part of the world is exceedingly limited; as a matter of fact, Great Britain has to draw on India, as the affair in Java illustrates, for the troops which would be required if her authority were put severely to the test.

Finally, Great Britain is now heavily in debt, as a result of the war, to India, Egypt, Palestine, and also to Iraq. For an imperial power, a protecting power, or even for an international trustee, it is wholly abnormal that the dependent peoples should be the creditors rather than be able to draw upon the sovereign power for their own capital development.

These are the determining reasons why the British government—in spite of the public pledges given by the Labor Party before the election—is "not in a position to adopt a policy" which the Arab kingdoms and the Moslems of India are threatening to oppose with violence. It is also the reason why President Truman could not insist upon his request.

THE BRITISH believed their position was strong in the Middle East. Mr. Attlee would almost certainly have gone a very long way, without much insistence from us, toward carrying out the President's request. But believing they are not strong, the British do not believe they could carry out the agreement if London had agreed with Washington. The President had no choice but to accept the British estimate of their own authority and power.

It has been said that in agreeing to the British-American committee of inquiry, the President has accepted equal responsibility. As respects that part of the inquiry which is to deal with the relief and protection of the Jews who prefer to remain in Central Europe, or have to remain at least for the present, this is true. This is as much an American as it is a British responsibility; it is in fact the common responsibility of the United Nations.

AS RESPECTS Palestine, the British and American responsibilities have not yet been made equal. For the United States is not now a Middle Eastern power. American sympathy for Zionism, American oil concessions, American missionaries, do not make us a Middle Eastern power, equal to Britain. The Middle East is a British sphere of influence because Britain alone can take military and administrative action.

Therefore, in the inquiry about Palestine, the solution selected is bound to depend on whether the United States is to become in fact, not by virtue of its influence in London but by its presence in the Middle East, a principal power in that part of the world. The Palestinian solution will be one thing if the U.S. role is limited to recommending what Great Britain, which is on the top, is to carry out. It can be a quite different solution if the United States makes the momentous decision that the whole Middle East is a region of such vital interest to the peace and prosperity of the world that we must be present in the Middle East—present somewhere, for example at the port of Haifa—exercising not only influence from the distance of Washington but influence radiating from some local point of actual American power.

THE DECISION that has to be taken by President Truman and Secretary Byrnes, and, of course, approved by Congress and the people, is comparable in its importance with that taken in 1900 by President McKinley and Secretary Hay in regard to China. That was the beginning of the chain of events which led us into the Philippines, and into Eastern Asia, and through Pearl Harbor to General MacArthur's occupation of Japan.

We could enter the Middle East as a power—as distinguished from an influence or as ultimate backers of the British position—only in open agreement with the British government and the Soviet government. For strategic reasons there would have to be high priority for an agreement providing the guarantees—given and taken and capable of mutual enforcement—about the Dardanelles, the accessibility and the security of the Black Sea and the Mediterranean.

THE QUESTION whether we wish to become a Middle Eastern power is, of course, ultimately our own decision. But if we are to become such a power, the question of how and under what conditions, is one which will have to be negotiated at the very highest levels of diplomacy in London, Moscow and Washington. The conclusions of the Anglo-American committee of inquiry will be determined by how these greater questions, which are outside its terms of reference, are answered.

Letters To The Editor

WANTS A 'SPORTING CHANCE'

How strange that Mr. Turnbull, while enjoying the fruits of democracy, is tooting for the "French Movement Republique Populaire" which "sets its socialists in the framework of a spiritual renaissance around basic Christian principles, and their transmutation into a new moral order, as the necessity of any vital new order."

He decides race prejudice in North America, while he admits French Socialism, but not Russian Socialism. If Christianity cannot teach ethics especially honor, regardless of racialism or politics, how can it prove its own moral value to a democracy?

Surely at the 11th hour volunteers should come forward to pioneer and clear away the debris that is blocking the progress on the mental and moral planes, a clearing away of the stone or block mentioned in the Great Book?

This is our duty to the next generation. Give them a sporting chance and a clean slate.
GRACE JONES.

THE ARENA SITE

Having read in your papers recently letters concerning the site of Victoria's long-awaited and proposed arena, I am suggesting Stevenson's Park, which is a naturally excavated site near Victoria.

RELIEF IN A HURRY FOR THAT COUGH

It's easy to enjoy a cough-free winter. At first sign of a chest cold get Palmer's 2 Minute Aid. Mixtures or, better still, have it on hand before that cold strikes. For comforting healing starts immediately, as plugs in loosened and inflamed membranes are soothed. And all this only takes two minutes. That's why it's called the "2 Minute Aid." At all drug stores.

torian High School, between Gladstone Avenue and Pembroke Street.

This site is just about central for Greater Victoria and has ample fields for parking areas nearby, as we, as streetcar and bus service.

There is much more space around it than the present proposed rockpile on Blanshard Street, which is in a poorer location. Although it is realized that the area has been set aside as a park, a large building in it would greatly enhance its present dilapidated-looking condition. This site could be made into a place that would give our arena a setting unequalled in Canada.

Let's have something that can be utilized for all public gatherings, indoor sports and healthful recreation for young and old, so that one and all will be proud and happy to point it out to visitors as a point of interest in Victoria.

—but we've a long way to go yet..

Our telephone system is trying hard to catch up in its growth, held down during the war by government restrictions. The two main bottlenecks in the cities now are cable and central office equipment. We are receiving some of each from the factories but not nearly enough to meet our requirements. However, we are showing progress and are looking forward to the day when the waiting lists for telephone service will disappear.

Why VICKS Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason...

and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

I.O.D.E. Protests Ottawa Replanning By Foreign Architect

The reported intention of the Canadian government to employ an architect of foreign citizenship to replan the capital city of Ottawa as a national war memorial, was strongly protested in a resolution sent to the Provincial Chapter of the I.O.D.E. from a meeting of Municipal Chapter held Monday evening in the Union Building. Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, regent, presided.

"There are many capable architects of Canadian and old country training who have knowledge of what should be carried out to symbolize our Canadian life and thought," the resolution concludes. The Provincial Chapter was urged to take up the matter with National Chapter with a view to bringing the above to the attention of the government at Ottawa, strongly protesting the appointment of anyone who is not a Canadian citizen.

Mrs. F. F. Beckett, education convener, presented the resolution. It was also reported the sum of $1,100 has been invested in the Scholarship Fund through Victory bonds.

Reports of the standard bearer and war services convener were given by Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, who stated 84 personal property bags at a value of $215.56 had been turned in during the month, also 101 garments for bombed-out areas; 36 garments for the forces and several articles for Polish relief. In addition 12 cloth helmets were forwarded to H.M.C.S. Uganda by Gonzales Chapter, and knitted wear to liberated prisoners of war.

UNITED EFFORT

Mrs. Joan French summarized suggestions, forthcoming on a united effort of all the chapters and a committee was appointed to act on these suggestions. It will be composed of Mrs. A. W. Walsh, Mrs. C. L. Bishop, Miss Sylvia Petch and one representative from each chapter.

Mrs. P. E. Corby was appointed representative for the Drama Festival committee. Mrs. P. Cunningham, treasurer, reported the sum of $428.14 in the general fund; $161.87 in the war services fund; $157.63 in the Alexandra Rose account. Other reports were given by Mrs. R. Shanks, work in India; Mrs. George Lillie, Girl Guides; Mrs. Phipps, Navy League; Mrs. P. Bell, endowment fund; Mrs. W. L. Williams, films; Mrs. W. Webster, W.P.T.B. liaison officer.

Appointed to the committee for the cancer fund were Mrs. J. L. Ford, Mrs. L. Lumsden, Mrs. N. F. Ferris, Miss Jean Conway and Mrs. C. L. Bishop.

There will be no December meeting.

Bazaar Planned—At a meeting of the ladies of First United Spiritualist Church, final plans were made for the bazaar to be held in the S.O.E. Hall, Nov. 22. Rev. Ethel Showers will open the affair at 2, and convener are as follows: Fancy work, Rev. E. Showers; aprons, Mrs. A. L. Harrison; home cooking, Mrs. E. Harrison; tea, Mrs. Hargreaves; miscellaneous, Mrs. A. Livingston. Readings will be given by Dr. E. Milne and Mrs. T. Allan. Psychometry and readings will also be given.

Blind Choristers Sing At Government House Party

The first of the pre-Christmas parties at Government House was held Monday afternoon, when the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward were hosts to the blind people of Victoria.

The Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Woodward, who were attended by Lt.-Cmdr. Hugh Patterson and Miss Ruth Maclean, received their guests in the drawing-room, which had been decorated with huge vases of giant chrysanthemums. Capt. M. C. Robinson, M.B.E., national director of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, and Mrs. Robinson, who had come from Vancouver for the party were also in the receiving line.

Afternoon tea was served in the ballroom at long tables centred with low flower arrangements of small beauty chrysanthemums.

At the head table, with Mr. and Mrs. Woodward were Capt. and Mrs. Robinson, Mr. P. deN. Walker, deputy provincial secretary and Mrs. Walker, and Mrs. P. E. George.

GYPSY CHOIR

During the afternoon the blind choir presented a program of music. Dressed as gypsies in gay and colorful costumes made by themselves and jingling castanets and tambourines, these men and women sang choruses, duets and solos under the direction of Mrs. Humphrey Melish.

Spend Honeymoon Here

MR. AND MRS. RALPH ROGERS

Scion of the famed Rogers chocolates family, Ralph C. Rogers, and his bride, the former Charlotte Collins Hook of Cincinnati, are honeymooning at the Empress Hotel.

They were married Nov. 11 in Canadian Memorial Church, 17 years to the day after the chapel was dedicated, the bride and groom standing beneath the chancel window donated by the Rogers family in memory of the late Charles W. Rogers.

Following their honeymoon in Victoria, the interior and California, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers may return to Vancouver to live.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Herger will arrive from Vancouver Dec. 1, to spend the balance of the winter at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. D. E. Galloway of Victoria is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ryan in Montreal. She will leave at the end of the month for Johannesburg, South Africa, to visit her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Sharpe.

To honor her son-in-law, Lieut. Don Davis, R.C.N.V.R., who recently returned to Victoria from the east, after receiving his discharge, Mrs. T. G. Sheppard, King George Terrace, entertained at a dinner party.

Mrs. D. Tuck, Kingston Street, entertained at the tea hour at the Empress Hotel, in honor of Miss Beverly Prescott, who will be married shortly. Mrs. E. Prescott poured tea, and others present were: Mesdames Graham Harris, J. Impett, Cave-Brown-Cave, R. Harbor, H. Cumberbirch and J. Lumner.

Rev. George Biddle officiated at the christening ceremony of the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Elsdon Sunday afternoon at St. John's Church. The child received the names, Robert William. The godparents were Mrs. Ethel Miller, Miss Lona-Marie Attfield, Mr. Wm. McMurray and Mr. Lorne Elsdon of Vancouver. Mr. Bill Craven stood proxy for Mr. Elsdon. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Elsdon entertained a few friends at their home on Neil Avenue. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Attfield, Miss Lona-Marie Attfield, Mrs. Ethel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Simister, Miss Francine Simister, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Craven, Mrs. Ann Stanner and Mr. Wm. McMurray.

Polka Dot Cast Includes Navy

Included in the cast of "In a Spot," to be presented at the Polka Dot Party on the evenings of Nov. 26 and 27 at the Sirocco, are navy boys here on a course from different parts of Canada. Stokers first class, R.C.N.V.R., Ted Johns, Lawrence Sailor and Art Bonner are playing opposite the principal roles of Rosemary, Susie and Mary. Stokers first class, Jim Crawford, Stewart Mooney, Al Anderson, Tom Woods, Len Compton and Cameron Knowles have large parts in the choruses as well as supporting minor principals.

Among the many songs in this musical show to be presented by the Solarium Junior League are old favorites such as "Strolling in the Park," "On a Sunday Afternoon," "By the Sea," "Cecilia" and many of the latest ballads.

The first two scenes will be in gay nineties costumes and the last scene has a modern cabaret setting with chorines in polka dot costumes. Members of the league who have leading parts in "In the Spot," are Mrs. Noel Morgan, Mrs. R. D. McCullough, Mrs. Tan McCallum, Mrs. Howard Damske, Mrs. Frank Dunn, Miss Marnie Hutecheon and Mrs. Margaret Drinkwater.

Sponsor Lecture On Pasteurization

A lecture on the pasteurization of milk will be given by Dr. Gordon Bates, secretary of the Health League of Canada, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, Nov. 30, at 8, under the sponsorship of the Local Council of Women, it was announced at the council meeting Monday.

A letter, written by the Society for the Preservation of Native Plants and Flowers, to the parks committee urging that the trees and brush on Dallas Road not be cut, was read by Mrs. Hugh MacKenzie and was fully endorsed by the meeting. A copy of the letter will be sent to the city council and the parks committee.

Conveners' reports were given by Mrs. A. I. Spurgin, mental hygiene; Mrs. E. MacDonald, peace; and arbitration; Miss Marjorie Baird, V.O.N.; Miss J. E. M. Bruce, trades and professions for women.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 10.

Entertain Seamen

A card party was held at the Connaught Seamen's Institute when a number of merchant navy men were entertained from the S.S. Safoyle. Refreshments were served with Miss P. Robertson as convener.

Overseas With Cwacs

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson were hosts at their home on Salt Spring Island in honor of Capt. T. Guernsey, when he was presented with the Imperial Service Medal by Hon. George Pearson.

A letter written on behalf of the King was read—acknowledging Capt. Guernsey's long service as light-house keeper at various spots on the British Columbia coast, with over 20 years at Active Pass, Mayne Island. The host and hostess were assisted in serving supper to about 50 guests by their daughter, Mrs. Lois Hayes.

Members and friends of the Victoria West Social Club gathered at the home of Mrs. H. Patterson, Belton Avenue, Monday evening, to honor her daughter, Miss Grace Patterson, with a miscellaneous shower. Games were played and later, refreshments were served. Those present were Mesdames S. Alford, R. Cove, D. Clifford, M. Elliott, E. Fitzpatrick, E. Harknett, J. Hillier, I. Holmes, H. Johnson, D. Leech, K. McCormick, L. McKay, K. Orchin, D. Vashersse, D. Recognition Service For New Hi-Y Members

Canon Michael Coleman gave an inspiring address at the annual girls' Hi-Y recognition service held Sunday afternoon in Christ Church Cathedral. There were 300 members of Victoria High, Mount View, Mount Douglas and Esquimalt Hi-Y clubs. Parents, advisers and members of the school board were guests. President of Victoria's Inter-club Council, Catherine Firth, was chairman, with other club officers participating. The service was arranged to take new girls into active membership and to repledge the old Hi-Y girls. Miss Phyllis Sheen sang a solo. The choir was under the direction of Miss Jean Glendinning.

Among those welcoming guests were Kay Firth and Dorothy Willis of Victoria High; Joyce Empey, Esquimalt High; Eileen Watkins, Mount View, and Ruby Parham of Mount Douglas High. Monday evening the Victoria High club held a special pin-giving ceremony at the Y.W.C.A. This ceremony concludes the period of probation and fully recognizes the new girls as members of their club. Victoria High has four clubs with four sponsors, who are the Misses J. Langdon, M. Liffon, H. Dickson and J. Sutton, all members of the teaching staff, Miss M. Foster, girls' work secretary at the "Y," is the "Y" adviser to each club.

RHEUMATIC Pain Made Him Helpless as a Baby

"My husband suffered from rheumatic twinges off and on for 5 years," writes Mrs. Frank Chartrand, 116 Catharine St., N. Hamilton, "but 7 months ago he was suddenly stricken with a rheumatic pain in his back, so that he could not move and was as helpless as a baby. He had various treatments, but nothing seemed to help. Fortunately, a friend mentioned T-R-C's. Money cannot buy health, but it bought T-R-C's, and T-R-C's pulled my husband through. He was able to get up 3 days after he started to take T-R-C's. Today, he is no longer bothered with rheumatic pain."

Don't suffer needlessly from Rheumatic, Arthritic or Neuritic Pain and Stiffness. If you ache all over or are stiff and sore in joints and muscles, get quick relief with T-R-C's. T-R-C's is used successfully by thousands who once suffered as you do now. T-R-C's are sold by druggists everywhere. 50c, $1, T-24

Mrs. C. Flight Honored At Toy Club Meeting

At the annual meeting of the B.C. Toy Club, Mrs. C. Flight was made its first honorary president. Mrs. Flight, who organized the club, and has been the driving force behind all its activities, wished to relinquish her duties as president, the office she has held since its inception. Mrs. A. Neroutsos thanked the president for her service. Other officers elected were: Mrs. A. Mainprize, president; Mrs. L. Hick, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Fairchild, second vice-president; Mrs. T. Quayle, secretary; Mrs. E. Cuthbertson, treasurer; committee, Miss Mata Hodge, Miss Mary Stewart, Mrs. Kerslake and Mrs. Barr.

During the past year the Toy Club has shipped to Britain eight cases containing 1,500 hand-made toys, over 600 ditty bags filled with small articles, hundreds of reconditioned books, games, and approximately 1,000 comforts, including babies' garments, socks, sweaters, soaps. Over 100 pounds of toys and comforts have been sent in five-pound parcels.

As there is still a great need for toys, the Toy Club will continue meeting every Wednesday and Thursday mornings at 1006 Government Street, from 10 until 2.

Ration coupons valid Wednesday are: Sugar, Nos. 46 to 67; butter, Nos. 116 to 129; preserves, Nos. 33 to 57 and P-1 to P-21; meat, Nos. 1 to 11.

Dahlstrom Joins Seattle Ice Club

SEATTLE (AP)—Cully Dahlstrom, 10-year veteran from the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, arrived Monday to join the Seattle Iron-men of the Pacific Coast circuit. He is a centre and the first American-born player ever to win the National League's "rookie of the year" award.

Dahlstrom was born at Minneapolis, Minn., in 1913. He played amateur with the old Regina Pats and turned professional in the 1933-34 season with Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League.

Secretary Al Leader of the Pacific Coast loop said Monday that no explanation had yet been received from Thomas Lockhart, president of the U.S. Amateur Hockey Association, concerning the suspension of three Seattle players, Manager Frank Dotten, Ed Dartnell and Bill Robinson.

May Get Burial Plot for Veterans

Possibility of some action in the obtaining of a veterans' burial park at Royal Oak for Greater Victoria area appears imminent according to a letter received Monday by Ald. W. H. Davies, chairman of the Citizens Memorial Day Committee of Greater Victoria.

G. S. McFarlane, chairman of the interdepartmental advisory committee on burial of members and ex-members of the forces, informs Ald. Davies that he had called a meeting of his committee to consider the matter at an early date and that he would inform the city committee of the decision.

Earlier in the year the four municipalities of Greater Victoria, the Canadian Legion and I.O.O.F. endorsed the request for the special burial plot for veterans in the Greater Victoria area.

ROBBING THE CRADLE

Dear Miss-Dix: I am a young man of 24, in love with two women, and it has come to the point where I must choose between them. Both women are well up in age compared to me, as they are 12 years older than I am. They have many ways that are attractive to me, but the question in my mind is how long will these attractions last?

Do you think either of these women would make me a good and lasting wife?
 A. P. G.

Answer: When a boy marries a woman 12 years older than he is, it isn't a question of how durable she will be as a wife, the problem is how long he will last as a husband. For such a marriage has in it none of the elements on which a lasting marriage must be founded.

UNSETTLED EMOTIONS

To begin with, you show that you are still in the adolescent stage, where your emotions are unsettled, by saying that you are in love with two women and don't know which of them you prefer. That proves that you are not adult enough to know what real love is. You are only capable of a passing fancy that wavers from one to the other, and that would soon flicker out when you arrived at maturity and met up with some girl who made your elderly wife seem like your mother.

And certainly any woman who takes a boy to rear instead of marrying a "grown-up" man, is lacking in good, hard, common sense and is asking for trouble. For youth calls to youth, and there is every chance in the world that he will forsake her for some cutie of his own age who can dance with him and who has the same tastes and habits that he has. Nor is there any job in the world so wearing as that of the wife who is so much older than her husband that she has to spend her time in the vain attempt to look young. And, worst of all, to keep her boy husband amused.

One of the main don'ts in marriage is: Don't marry outside of your own age class.

P.T.A. News

Mr. Newton—A fancy box social has been arranged for Nov. 30, with dancing contest and refreshments. Mrs. D. Bryce will speak over CJVI, Wednesday at 5, on the P.T.A. weekly program. Her subject will be "The Question of School Lunches." Telephone bridge being played until Nov. 26. Phone scores to secretary.

Tillicum—A tea held in the school was convened by Mrs. P. Riddle and Mrs. R. Gardier. Miss C. Wright presided at the tea table and Mrs. N. Chaffin was at the door. Home cooking and miscellaneous articles were sold. Conversers being Mesdames J. Berryman, V. Lalonde, B. Dresser, F. Glass, and Miss Patsy Snelling. Songs and folk dances were given by the pupils of the school under the supervision of Miss H. McKinnon. Grades 5, 6 and 7 gave a display of tumbling, pyramid building and physical education exercises, with Mr. J. Morrison, supervisor of physical education for Saanich schools, directing.

Cedar Hill—The country fair, held by the Cedar Hill P.T.A. in St. Luke's Hall, realized $318.22 for the work of the association. Mrs. John Gough, who was introduced by Mrs. J. M. McGee, opened the fair and later corsage bouquets were presented to Mrs. Gough, Mrs. McGee and the general conveners, Mrs. H. D. Genn and Mrs. L. Johnston. The girls' choir gave several numbers during the afternoon and the junior girls presented a country dance. Principal A. Cullen acted as announcer. Those assisting were: Mesdames H. A. Richmond, E. J. Harwood, E. P. Porter, A. E. Palmer, B. G. Clement, H. N. Whittemore, M. Scholefield, J. Armstrong, F. Druce, W. S. Morry, Miss J. Service and Miss J. McMillan.

Langford—Mr. E. Savannah, science professor at Victoria College gave a talk in the Langford school auditorium to the local parent-teacher association on the history of plastics, new materials and inventions. A question period followed. H. W. Leggett moved a vote of thanks to the speaker. Mrs. A. F. Bayles presided at the business meeting and introduced the new secretary, Mrs. Karl Johanson. Hot luncheons will be served monthly to pupils. Mesdames A. F. Bayles, H. W. McKenzie, N. Bedard and T. Guiney will handle the one on Nov. 22. Reports were heard as follows: Membership, P. Strachan; literature, Mrs. N. Bedard; youth welfare, R. E. Lawrence; scout troop, J. D. F. Bullen; girl guides, Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen; liaison officer and honor roll, Mrs. H. A. Hincks. MY LUMBAGO IS A THING OF THE PAST

If you have suffered from lumbago, you'll understand why this man wants to pass on the good news as to how he found relief. He says:

"I had a bad attack of lumbago. When I got into bed I had to stay in one position—I could not move for pain. I was given the tip to try Kruschen and I am very grateful for it. For after taking a few doses I felt some relief; and after taking one large bottle I am glad to say that my lumbago has become a thing of the past. And there is no trace of it coming back."—E.A.V.

There are many instances in which the Kruschen saline treatment has brought happy relief... just as it did for Mr. E.A.V. So why not try Kruschen yourself? But be sure to take it faithfully for as long as needed and thereby give Kruschen a chance to overcome conditions in your body which have probably taken months... or even years, to develop. There is always a cause for lumbago and with many persons the pain can be traced to toxins or poisons in the system. Kruschen's action is to help your organs of elimination and thereby bring you relief. Kruschen Salts are procurable at all drug stores, 25c and 75c.

"...SO NOW WE'LL HAVE A BANKER IN THE FAMILY!"

"Well, Bob has finally decided! When he's finished school he wants to go to work in a bank. And I'm glad—for a lot of reasons..."

He'll get a thorough training, and can even receive university instruction in banking and economics while he is working. Banking isn't learned in a day, but he'll get lots of help—and every opportunity to move up as he proves himself. The road to the top is wide open, and offers:

SECURITY AND PEACE OF MIND

Social security is a phrase prominent in public discussions these days, but the practice of it is not new. Consider the banks and their employees:

1. Pension funds, to which, with their employees, banks themselves contribute substantially, make it possible for employees to devote all their business lives to banking, sure of an income for life when they reach the age of retirement.
2. Annual vacations with pay, and special sick leave arrangements in special cases.
3. Ordinary sick leave with pay, and special sick leave arrangements in special cases.
4. Group life insurance contributed to jointly by banks and employees.
5. Good working conditions.
6. Unlimited opportunity for enterprise and advancement.

Banks and their staffs, in co-operation with each other, have made it possible for the latter to enjoy a well-founded sense of permanency and security.

Scientific research indicates that a NON-OILY nasal formula like Buckley's Nezine does not cause bronchial complications. At all drug stores—50¢.

BUCKLEY'S NEZINE

Senator Barnard's Retirement Ends 43 Years Public Service

A 43-year-long career of public service, which included occupancy of the Chief magistrate's chair for Victoria, Victoria's seat in the House of Commons and a B.C. desk in the Senate, was brought to a close today with the announcement by Senator H. Barnard that he had presented his resignation to the Governor-General.

"I think the time has come when I should make room for a younger and more energetic man," said Senator Barnard, who was 77 last Oct. 9.

"My good wife has done her share of public service also," he continued. "She has always accompanied me to Ottawa at no small sacrifice to herself, and I owe most of such success as I may have had to her help."

"We are both very tired of the long journeys we have had to take to Ottawa sometimes crossing and recrossing the continent two or three times in 12 months. We both feel that the time has come when we may sit on the sidelines for the rest of our lives."

Senator Barnard, who was born in Victoria and who has lived in the same Victoria house for 73 years, hopes to spend the remaining years of his life in peace and quietness of his home on Rockland Avenue to which he took his bride more than 50 years ago.

"We hope that our lives have been sufficiently useful to entitle us to the respect of the community in which we have lived and which we have tried to serve as good citizens should," he said.

HIGHLIGHTS OF CAREER

Today Senator Barnard recalled the highlights of his career. "October—an important month with me," he said. "I was born on Oct. 9, 1868, and my wife was born on Oct. 12. I was elected to the House of Commons on Oct. 28, 1908, called to the Senate on Oct. 17, 1917, and decided to resign in October, 1945."

"My first school was one conducted by Rt. Rev. Bishop and Mrs. Cridge, at the corner of Broughton and Quadra Streets," he continued. "I subsequently went to T.C.S. at Port Hope, Ont., leaving there at the age of 16, returned to Victoria after an absence of three and a half years, and entered the office of Messrs. Eberts and Taylor, as a law student in the summer of 1886."

"I was called to the B.C. Bar in 1891, when I entered into practice in partnership with the late E. E. Wootton and the Hon. Mr. Justice McPhillips, late of the Court of Appeal."

Senator Barnard was examined for admission as a student of the Law Society in 1886 by James Stuart Yates, the oldest living resident of Victoria, who is still hale and hearty. "My father, who came to the country in 1859, the year after the discovery of gold on the Fraser River, was a member of the Provincial Legislature," Senator Barnard reminisced. "He founded the express and stage line from Yale to Cariboo, known as 'Barnard's Express.' Subsequently he sat for the constituency of Yale in the House of Commons at Ottawa. My brother-in-law, the late J. A. Mara, was Speaker of the local legislature and subsequently succeeded my father as member for Yale. My brother, the late Sir Frank Barnard, also sat in the Commons for the constituency of Cariboo."

When he was first elected to the House of Commons, British Columbia held only seven seats in the assembly, of which three different seats had been held by his father, his brother and himself.

"Our family could therefore be said to be fairly well-known in a great part of the province," he said.

"Nourished on this environment, Senator Barnard soon took an active interest in politics."

"As a matter of fact I was working in the ranks of my party when I was only 23 years of age," he said.

SENATOR G. H. BARNARD

ON CITY COUNCIL

Senator Barnard entered municipal politics in 1902 when he won the James Bay ward seat on the City Council.

"I was re-elected in 1903 and in 1904 was elected mayor of the city at the age of 36 years, and was re-elected for the year, 1905," he said.

During the four years Senator Barnard served on the council the Causeway retaining wall was built along what is now Government Street, and the Empress Hotel was erected.

C.P.R. FORESIGHT

"I would like to say that in my humble opinion the C.P.R. deserves well of this city, for the manner in which it more than carried out its contract," said Senator Barnard, recalling that the company had agreed to build a hotel costing $300,000 but before the building was finished, the company spent more than $1,000,000. "This sum has since been increased by expenditures upon additions to $5,000,000 at least upon the hotel alone," he said, adding that the hotel was undoubtedly responsible for the creation of the very fine B.C. Coast Service, linking Vancouver Island and the mainland.

"This service I believe is the finest of its kind in the world," he said. "Certainly there is none anywhere nearly equal to it between England and any of the European or Irish ports."

In 1906 Senator Barnard was elected president of the Victoria Association of the Liberal-Conservative Party, and in 1908 when the provincial Liberal-Conservative Association was formed, he was elected the first president of the new association at a convention in Vancouver.

RECIPROCITY ELECTION

At the federal general election in October, 1908, Senator Barnard was elected by a majority of 13 votes, but 3½ years later in the "Reciprocity Election" he was returned with a 500 majority.

"A considerable improvement on my first attempt," he said, "a fact of which I was naturally proud, particularly because I was up against a stiff fight in each case against a cabinet minister."

During the next four years, Senator Barnard in Ottawa occupied himself with the development of Victoria as an ocean port which was anticipated by the construction of the Panama Canal.

"During this period our efforts were successful to the extent that the breakwater at Ogden Point and the docks and freight sheds were commenced and these were finished not long after the commencement of war at a cost of some millions (I forget the exact amount)."

"It was during this period also that the federal government was committed to the building of the drydock at Esquimalt," he continued, adding this had been in anticipation of implementation of the government's plans for a drydock which had induced Sir Alred Yarrow to take over a ship-building plant here.

"In addition to the above major developments, we had planned a program of minor works for the benefit of the city, but the commencement of the war put an end to all public works of the kind for the time being."

Highlights of parliamentary life during the war years were the longest continuous debate in the history of the Canadian Parliament—on the proposal of Sir Robert Borden to donate to the British Navy three battleships, and the fire which destroyed the Parliament Buildings, causing the loss of several lives.

"The new buildings, while constructed on a much grander and more magnificent scale than the old buildings, have never, I think, taken the place in the affections of those privileged to serve in both buildings that the original buildings occupied," said Senator Barnard. "Possibly in the years to come when the present buildings have been mellowed by age and traditions, this will be different."

ENTERED SENATE

In 1917 when the representation in the Senate for B.C. had been increased from three to six members, Senator Barnard was chosen for the position.

"I was glad to accept, because while still interested in political affairs, I was tired, and had made up my mind not to seek re-election," he said.

"I have found life in the Senate much more peaceful than in the Commons... I have served for many years on the private bills, the banking and commerce and the committee on railways and canals, which probably are the three most important committees of the Senate, and have in addition put in five years on the hardest worked committee of all—the committee on divorce."

"All in all I have been 37 years a member of one of the houses of Parliament, during which time I have endeavored to do my duty, and trust that I have at least brought no discredit upon my party or the community which I have long represented."

"Long ago I realized that the good fellows are not confined to any one party, and have found and still have many good friends on both sides of politics. It is my belief that men of good will are on all sides of the Houses of Parliament, and these are in the overwhelming majority, notwithstanding their different viewpoints, and they have the best interests of their country at heart. As for corruption in any major sense, it simply does not exist."

IT IS INTERESTING to note that both Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers are still drawing sell-out hockey crowds, but I wonder how long the fans will continue their support if the teams don't start winning pretty soon. The Leafs finally marked up their second win of the season Sunday night at the expense of Rangers, dropping Lester Patrick's club into the cellar, the spot they have occupied for two successive years. The Leafs, however, still boast the mighty poor home record of one win and a tie, while the Rangers have treated the home fans to a lone triumph.

LOOKING OVER the Toronto team on paper it is hard to understand just what is keeping the club from winning. The same line-up that lifted the Stanley Cup last season has been strengthened no end by the return of such outstanding players as Gaye Stewart, Syl Apps, Bob Goldham, Billy Taylor, Gus Bodnar et al. and should be up there fighting for the lead instead of resting in fifth spot. If Toronto doesn't hit a winning streak pretty soon the home fans are going to start crying for the blood of Coach Happy Day. He certainly has the material to come up with a winner. The Rangers are in much the same spot. Return of such established stars as goalies Chuck Raynor and Sugar Jim Henry, along with the Colville brothers, Mac and Neil, Alex Shibicky, and the signing of the great Edgar LaPrade will certainly make the Gotham fans wonder why the team is not showing up better.

"EXPERT COACH" is the title interior newspapers are tacking on Claude Bissell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Bissell, for the manner in which his Rutland High School soccer eleven has blazed its way to a championship in the Okanagan. Bissell, well known here for his athletic activities a few years back, has just piloted his team through as kingpins of the South Okanagan League to gain possession of the Fort Garry trophy. His club is now shooting for the valley championship. Claude holds the position of vice-principal of the Rutland High School.

SEEN IN PASSING: Gordon Richards, who has led the list of British jockeys 17 times in the past 19 years and who has booted home more than 3,000 winners, never has ridden an English Derby winner. He already has given calls on his services to the owners of three of this year's top two-year-olds in hopes of achieving that ambition next spring. . . . I hear city officials are thinking about building a fence around the Heywood Avenue grounds. The soccer players are more interested in dressing-rooms. . . . What with St. Mary's and Holy Cross, which looked like sure things for bowl football bids in the United States on New Year's Day, getting knocked off, the list now looks like Army (if it will go), Alabama, Oklahoma Aggies and then what?

Boxing Club Plans To Instruct Youths

Victoria Amateur Boxing Club will carry on a campaign to interest youngsters in the schools in the art of self-defence, it was decided by members of the club meeting Monday night.

Action on reorganization of the club was postponed until a later date.

The aim of the club is to teach boxing to all boys of Greater Victoria who will attend gym periods. Roy Simmons, former president, stated.

Tommy Burgess, Vic Murdoch, Bobby Parker, Carl Bell and Jack McAvoy are some of the well-known local square ring mixers who have offered themselves to coach the youth of the city in boxing.

Simmons stated that he was sure there were quite a number of boys who are interested, adding "and we are prepared to assist them."

Final objective of the club is the staging of the Vancouver Island Golden Gloves championships.

PATERSON BEATEN

PARIS (AP)—Theo Medina, French flyweight and bantamweight boxing king, Monday night outpointed Jack Patterson, the world flyweight champion from Glasgow, in a 10-round non-title bout. Medina, who weighed 118 to his rival's 120, floored Patterson twice in the sixth round.

Winnipeg Bombers Plan Practice Sessions in East

WINNIPEG (CP)—If present plans materialize, Winnipeg Blue Bombers may have an extra few days' practice in the east before their Grey Cup final, Dec. 1, with either Toronto Balmy Beach or Toronto Argonauts.

At a workout Monday night, the players declared themselves in favor of coach Bert Warwick's proposal to leave for Toronto early next week, instead of Nov. 29, two days before the game. They also agreed that the extra living expenses for their stay in Toronto would come out of the players' pockets.

The decision will be made tonight. However, when final plans for the jaunt for the east-west tilt will be made.

There is an additional possibility that Warwick, accompanied by former Bomber quarterback, Art Stevenson, might scout next Saturday's eastern final at Varsity Stadium.

Veteran Bomber stars like the idea of holding their pre-Grey Cup practices in one of the Ontario cities, near Toronto, rather than in the Queen City. The system has paid off in the past, when Winnipeg won three Canadian titles.

Warwick, assisted by line coach Bill Nairn and Stevenson, whipped the squad through a pass defence workout under the lights at Osborne Stadium last night. Harry Hood and Ken Draper flipped passes at Steve Boninick, Frank Bolvin, Jim Foubister, Nate Shore and Harry Beckwith attempted to knock them down.

"I think we can handle any aerial attack the east throws at us, providing the boys don't go to sleep out there," Warwick said after practice.

"Most of the players figure our opposition will be Argos," he declared. "They've got to beat the beaches first, though."

BARTOLA WINNER

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Boxing cleverly and punching sharply throughout, N.B.A. featherweight champion Sal Bartola of Boston won a unanimous verdict over Jock Leslie of Flint, Mich., in a 10-round bout here Monday night. It was an overweight match in which the champion's title was not at stake. Bartola weighed 123½; Leslie 127.

Forbes Selected As Assistant Coach

Campbell Forbes, present coach of the Victoria College seniors and a seasoned warrior of rugby battles including McKechnie Cup competition, has been selected to assist coach Major Bert Buller in moulding the Crimson Tide into shape for McKechnie Cup duels.

He was out with Buller Monday night under the lights at Macdonald Park putting the Tide through their paces. The Victoria "Reps"—known all over B.C. as the "Crimson Tide"—will make their first bid for McKechnie Cup honors Saturday when they take on Varsity on the mainland.

It was learned at Monday night's meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union, chairman Major J. C. Macdonald presiding, that it will not be until Saturday, Dec. 29, that Victoria English rugby fans will see the Tide in action here. It was hoped to bring Vancouver Reps over here on Boxing Day for Victoria Reps second battle in the provincial cup series, but B.C. Union put a firm "nix" on traveling on Christmas Day night so the later date is now definite.

GAME TOMORROW

Only English rugby game this week here will see Naval College and Oak Bay High School intermediates meeting at Windsor Park tomorrow afternoon at 3.45.

Naval College's Commander Ellis informed the meeting that his navy officers-to-be will invade Vancouver on Saturday to take off St. George's School.

Alberni to Have New Athletic Hall

PORT ALBERNI—Christmas for the youngsters came around a little early to this up-island community for the Rotary Club are readying a new athletic hall in a former R.C.E.M.E. garage building, to open Friday night.

The building has a hall 62 by 134 feet with a 21-foot ceiling and is well lighted and heated. Readily adapted for athletics, it contains several smaller rooms which can be converted into dressing and locker rooms and has plumbing facilities.

Renovation of the building is underway by the Rotary members, under chairmanship of Royley Tombs.

RUGBY PRACTICE

Oak Bay Wanderers will hold a rugby workout at Macdonald Park tomorrow at 6.30. All players are requested to attend.

Gaye Stewart Shows Promise Of Becoming One of Hockey's Greats

TORONTO (CP)—Gaye Stewart, a sharp-shooting left-winger from Fort William, is the silver lining in Toronto's hockey clouds. The 22-year-old speed merchant is picking up where he left off when he left the National Hockey League two years ago after a spectacular rookie debut to join the Royal Canadian Navy.

He has scored 11 goals for Toronto Maple Leafs in as many games this season, four of them in one game Saturday night against Harry Lumley of Detroit, currently the league's most effective goalie.

Stewart has high hopes now for as much success, for the Leafs as a team as he has enjoyed as an individual. "I think we're out of our slump now and are going places," he said with enthusiasm after the Leafs returned from New York, where they defeated the Rangers Sunday night and moved from last place to the fifth slot in the standings.

The 167-pound forward hasn't any theories about his success as a goal scorer. "I don't know how

Eagles Win Cage Feature

Eagles of senior B. Roller Bowl of intermediate A and Eaglettes of the fair sex league chalked up victories in Victoria and District Basketball League battles last night at the High School.

It was Eagles' initial triumph of the season when they took the measure of Sprinkling Tailors by a score of 46 to 17. Likewise, it was the Roller Bowl's first win of the season and they scored it over Victoria College, the final point-count being 28 to 25. Eaglettes hung a defeat on Rookies by a 48 to 18 score.

Gat Taylor and Gordon Hartley provided the main scoring punch for Eagles. Between them they hit the hoop for 30 of their team's 46 points. Davies was another major score contributor, marking up a total of 10 points. The tailor gang were no match for the Eagles, who started marking up points early and soon had a commanding lead.

RALLY DECIDES

The Roller Bowl quintette staged a final quarter rally that carried them through to a 28 to 25 hard-fought victory over Victoria College. Prior to this closing stanza spurt the Bowl boys were on the short end of the score. Including four long shots from the side of the court, Bob Aitken accounted for nine points in this rally, the other point coming from a foul shot.

Roller Bowl proved themselves adept at potting the hoop from long range. The Collegians were the smoother-working squad, but they failed to make their close-up shots count time and again.

Eaglettes were definitely superior in their tilt with Rookies. Winners started piling up points early and stayed well in front all the way. Stars for the Eaglettes were Elaine Barry and Helen Pettigrew, the former caging 19 points and the latter 13 points.

Teams and scores follow: Eagles—Molson 2, Taylor 2, Davies 10, McCullough 2, Rouse 1, John 2, Sprinkling Tailors—Ball 6, Sprinkling 4, Jones 1, P. Perry 2, McKay 2, Rouse 2, Shaw 2, Barnes 2, Shew 2, Alken 2, Dicks 4, McKay 5, Craven, McKenzie, Juss 1, Rafferty 2, Oliver, Baldwin.

Victoria College—J. MacDonald 19, H. MacDonald 4, Taylor 1, Mitchell 2, Hall, Carter & Nicholson.

Eaglettes—Barry 19, Pettigrew 12, Yeaman 6, Kallenbach 6, Vallance, Simpson 4, Handley, Girdle, Burnett 2.

Rookies—Harper, Blackey 4, Martin 4, Walker 4, Raper, Coates, Lindquist, P. Spiers, B. Spiers, Page, Gunnell, Smith 4.

The 167-pound forward hasn't any theories about his success as a goal scorer. "I don't know how

I get 'em," he said modestly. "Maybe I get more chances than the other fellows."

To observers, he scores goals because he's fast, because he fights his way in around the nets and because he's always trying to blast the puck home. Like other members of the Leafs, he misses chances around the goal when passes go slithering by him. But he misses fewer of them.

PRaises Apps

He's enthusiastic about his current centre ice partner, Syl Apps. "He's a wonderful player and I think we're going places," Mel Hill, who has been at right wing with Apps and Stewart for two games now, is "fairly flying but he's had a lot of tough luck."

But so far this season, Stewart hasn't had an assist and he'd rather get one of those than another goal. "I'd sure like to help score one, now."

Stewart is a product of hockey-loving Fort William and Port Arthur at the head of Lake Superior. Born in Fort William June 28, 1923, he first came into hockey

Undeclared Jokers Win Table Tennis

Jokers, undefeated leaders in the junior division of the Victoria Table Tennis Association, marked up their fifth straight win last night at the expense of the Yacht Club Snipes, 26 to 10. Toe Blake Continues To Pace Ice Snipers

MONTREAL (CP)—Hector (Toe) Blake of Montreal Canadiens held a two-point margin at the top of the individual scoring statistics issued today by the National Hockey League, with 10 goals and four assists collected in nine games. Blake was followed by Max Bentley of Chicago Black Hawks with nine goals and three assists.

A three-way tie for third place with 11 points saw Gaye Stewart of Toronto-Maple Leafs, Bill Cowley of Boston Bruins, and Bill Mosienko of Chicago hot on the heels of Bentley. Stewart earned his 11 points from an equal number of goals in 11 games, while Cowley's total came from seven goals and four assists, and Mosienko had five goals and six assists to his credit.

Toronto's Bill Ezinicki led the penalty parade with 21 minutes with Murphy Chamberlain, of Montreal a close second with 20.

Harry Lumley of Detroit Red Wings led the league's goal-tenders with 19 goals against him in nine games, giving him an average of 2.11. Second in this department was Canadiens' Bill Durnan with 24 goals scored on him in nine games, for an average of 2.666. Lumley, Durnan and Jim Henry of New York Rangers each have scored one shutout.

CANADIENS TRAVEL

Canadiens' front runners in the league race almost continuously since 1943-44, take to the road Wednesday night for a game against Boston Bruins which could be used as a springboard into undisputed leadership ahead of Detroit Red Wings.

Canadiens were outpaced temporarily at the start of this season by Chicago Black Hawks, but the Montreal club passed Hawks last week and now is tied with Detroit. Each team has seven victories and two defeats in nine games.

The Montreal-Boston game is the only N.H.L. game scheduled Wednesday.

Chicago, now two full games behind Detroit and Montreal, entertain the fall-end New York Rangers Thursday. No other league games are scheduled until the week-end.

Scoring leaders follow:

Blake, Canadiens 10 G. A. P. Bentley, Chicago 9 G. A. P. Mosienko, Chicago 9 G. A. P. Cowley, Boston 9 G. A. P. Stewart, Toronto 11 G. A. P. Durnan, Canadiens 24 G. A. P. Ezinicki, Toronto 21 G. A. Oak Bay to Disband School Cadet Corps

Disbandment of cadet corps at Oak Bay High School was recommended by D. H. Hartness, principal, at a meeting of Oak Bay school board Monday evening when he reported 155 of 190 questionnaire forms returned by parents queried on the question of cadets corps were unfavorable towards continuation of the corps.

Mr. Hartness, following his recommendation, pointed out there were outside military bodies which could carry on the work of cadet training if it was desired.

He would be sorry to see abolishment of cadets at the school he said, as he would have liked to see the boys doing something which would have maintained a nucleus for a cadet corps, but, he added, opinion was clear cut.

Colin Martin, chairman of the board, suggested the possibility of a rifle corps being formed later and suggested Mr. Hartness be given authority to enquire into the matter.

VETERANS AT SCHOOL

Mr. Hartness also reported a number of veterans were returning to the high school to continue their interrupted education. He was glad to have them back, he said, but some were taking only partial courses, which made it difficult. He suggested it would be much better for them if they were to take full courses.

He believed every possible help should be given the veterans. "If there is anything we can do for them, we should," he said.

Reports on activities at Monterey and Willow schools were presented by W. Brynjolfson and B. C. Gillie, respectively.

Mrs. E. McKinnon, school nurse, reported the general health of Oak Bay school children to be above average.

Permission was granted the Red Cross to use a downstairs room at Oak Bay High school for instruction in home nursing.

Prosperity Only Through Productive Employment

Through productive employment only could Canada enjoy permanent prosperity, said W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, to 250 government leaders and businessmen at the Empress Hotel Monday, in calling for a combined effort to attract business to British Columbia through advertisement of the province's industrial potentialities.

Members of the Gyro Club and Chamber of Commerce made up the main body of the audience but present also were representatives from the provincial legislature and councils of the city and municipalities.

The address which was enthusiastically received was titled: "Business is Moving to British Columbia," and consisted mainly of what the B.C. Electric Railway Company was doing in an advertising campaign through-out eastern Canada, the United States and Great Britain, which was using the title of the address as its slogan.

The end of the war ushered in an era of possible industrial expansion in the province greater than ever before enjoyed, the speaker said. Many thousands of servicemen and women were returning or setting up residence here, he said, and the resulting "problems of peace" were not going to be answered "by burying our heads in the sand."

PRODUCTIVE EMPLOYMENT

"The answer to permanent prosperity," Mr. Mainwaring emphasized, "was productive employment, and with the increase in population existed an opportunity to maintain and create more jobs."

The B.C. Electric of which more than 800 employees had joined the services, was looking to the future in its $50,000,000 10-year expansion program and coupled with this program was its "Business is Moving to British Columbia" advertising campaign.

The campaign which would last for 12 months already had brought more than 400 inquiries even though only a few advertisements had appeared so far.

Among the province's potentialities towards industrial development and economic progress which were being used in the advertising campaign, were lumber, fishing, export, agriculture, mining, cheap power, tourists, climate, working conditions.

AGRICULTURE UP

Agriculture production, the speaker said, had jumped from $39,000,000 in 1934 to $100,000,000 in 1944 in B.C., and there still was room for expansion. The lumber industry production in 1944 amounted to $146,000,000 which almost was double the figure for 1938. Under export, the province's shipping facilities were second to none, and as for climate, B.C. had "50 Swiss lands in one."

Booklets and pamphlets on the subject were available to anyone who could use them, and in any quantity, Mr. Mainwaring offered. And stickers bearing the words, "Business is Moving to British Columbia," to be placed on letters and parcels also were available.

J. V. Johnson, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

Weather Delays Work On Schools In Saanich Area

Bad weather has delayed work on the three new Saanich schools and three additions, Trustee M. P. Paine reported to the Saanich School Board Monday night.

Trustee Paine told the board recent rain had stopped much of the construction temporarily, but that the work would proceed again soon.

Municipal Inspector John Gough called to the attention of the board the ruling of the Department of Education that service cadet corps were to be on a voluntary basis only in the schools, and that a school could have only one of the three types of cadet corps, army, air or sea cadets.

He also pointed out that the teaching of physical education in secondary schools was to receive additional attention, with emphasis upon correct posture, smartness and precision, and with first aid to be taught.

WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Mr. Gough announced the winners of prizes presented by the board for place mats made by Saanich students in grades 4 to 6. The children participated in a Dominion-wide contest, but to stimulate interest, the board donated prizes. The mats, some of which were displayed at the meeting, were designed to call attention to the need for a balanced diet.

Winners in grade 4 were: 1st, Jean Veness, Tillamook; 2nd, Jack Quinton, Prospect Lake; 3rd, Violet Mar, Keating. Grade 5: 1st, Craig Massie, Cloverdale; 2nd, Bruce Lohr, Prospect Lake; 3rd, Norman Hunter, McKenzie Avenue. Grade 6: 1st, Phil Lambrick, Gordon Head; 2nd, Bernard Adstrom, Prospect Lake; 3rd, May Wong, Cloverdale.

The board commended J. Morrison, physical education supervisor, on the physical education program he had organized in Saanich schools. Mr. Morrison reported good co-operation from all schools in a sportsmanship campaign.

Trustee H. C. Head and D. McAdams, secretary, were named as a committee to consider what equipment might be sought for Saanich schools from War Assets Corporation.

Public Control of Rates and Service

Unified Operation under Efficient Business Management.

UTILITY SERVICE AT COST

THROUGH the Public Utilities Act the people of British Columbia have complete control over the rates charged by B.C. Electric and the kind of service they receive. The Public Utilities Commission, set up by the Provincial Legislature, laid down the principle seven years ago that rates shall be based on the "fair and reasonable cost of furnishing the service"

Total cost of service includes operating expenses—such as wages, materials and taxes—depreciation and a fair return on the money honestly and prudently invested. "The public should be protected against paying more than the cost of service and the utility should be protected in the recovery of the cost of service," is a guiding principle that the Commission has laid down.

No rate of return is guaranteed to the Company, but if our earnings should exceed the amount necessary to cover the cost of service the Commission can order a reduction in rates. Our customers therefore are well protected.

Public regulation, however, is not the only reason that you are now enjoying "service at cost."

The unified operations of gas, electric and transportation services as a single integrated business means lower rates and fares for you. And as a result of our continual efforts to encourage increased consumption through consistent reductions in rates, the average cost of electricity in this area has been going down year after year and is now one of the lowest on this continent.

The advantage of this type of management and regulation is that, while your interests are fully protected, you also benefit from the greater efficiency of a business enterprise with nearly 50 years of experience.

Hart to Tell Ottawa Of Victoria Problem On Rehabilitation

Forrest L. Shaw, chairman of the delegation of rehabilitation authorities who met Premier John Hart Monday afternoon, said today: "We have got the Premier definitely on our side. He is going to advance the matter in Ottawa. Something will have to be done for the coast cities."

The committee, which included delegates of Citizens' Rehabilitation Councils of Victoria and Vancouver, discussed rehabilitation problems with the Premier for 40 minutes. It was the second recent meeting of the committee's delegates and the Premier.

Members of the committee declined to release details of the report they submitted to the Premier before it had been presented to the Dominion-Provincial Conference.

OFF FOR OTTAWA

Premier Hart will leave Victoria Wednesday noon for Ottawa to attend the first session next Monday of the steering committee of the Dominion-Provincial Conference.

Details for the submission to the federal government were not complete in the brief handed to Premier Hart Monday but members of the committee will wire him further information when he arrives in Ottawa.

Mr. Shaw said the delegation had told the Premier there now were more than 600 unemployed ex-servicemen in Victoria. The committee asked for immediate implementation of postwar reconstruction plans.

Other members of the delegation were: F. B. McConnell, vice-chairman; Col. John Jeffery, secretary; Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A.; and R. E. Williams, executive members, and A. W. Cowley, executive secretary of the Vancouver council. Supporting the delegation was Maj. H. Culbert Holmes, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Suspend Ferry Service

Suspension of the ferry service between Sidney and Anacortes last Sunday, has been announced by George Pauline, agent for the Black Ball Line. The service will be resumed early next spring, he said.

The ferry Vashon will continue operating between Anacortes and San Juan Islands, and St. Iguar will continue her regular service between Victoria and Seattle.

W. Ord Running For School Board

Captain Wilfred Ord, whose term of office on the school board terminates this year has announced his intention to contest the elections again. He is the second member to announce that he will remain in the running, Miss Isla Tuck being the other.

This brings to four the number trying for the four School Board trusteeships, the others being the labor candidates, B. F. Williams and F. H. Dykes.

W. A. Bayliss is definitely out of the running, he said today, pressure of business making it impossible for him to continue as a member of the school board.

F. G. Mulliner, the fourth whose term of office expires has yet to make an announcement as to his intentions. Major R. H. Green, another whose name has been mentioned prominently as a possible candidate, has made no announcement yet.

109 Names Deleted From Voters' List

The Court of Revision removed 109 names from the city voters' list today and added the names of 23 more property owners.

Mayor Percy George and Ald. F. G. Mulliner sat as the court, and will now certify the voters' list as correct. Copies will be available at the city hall the latter part of next week.

Of those deleted from the voters' list, 23 were because they had ceased to be property owners, 79 were duplications, one had allowed a trades license to lapse, three who were formerly registered as householders had left the city, and three had died.

Premier Pays Tribute To Work of Blaylock

Paying tribute today to the work of S. G. Blaylock, former president of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada Ltd., who died Monday at Trail, Premier John Hart today described him as one of British Columbia's outstanding scientists and industrial leaders.

"British Columbia has suffered a great loss in the death of Mr. S. G. Blaylock," said the Premier. "He was a man who devoted himself unselfishly to the problems of war production."

Walter Miles has accepted the appointment as a member of the Town Planning Commission, he informed the city council today.

Small Mills Hit By Lifting Of Log Price Ceiling In B.C.

To be hardest hit by the lifting of the price ceilings on logs in the Vancouver forest district will be small independent sawmills selling to the domestic market, B.C. Forest Service authorities said here today.

In this group of sawmills will be several mills on Vancouver Island and a majority of the small mills in the interior.

Lifting of the ceiling on logs was announced Monday by D. D. Rosenberg, timber controller for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. He said the ceiling lifting was a temporary measure.

At the B.C. Forest Service headquarters it was suggested that the purpose of the lifting of the ceiling was to encourage the expansion of lumber output in B.C.

FORECAST PROTEST

While forestry department authorities forecast protests from small sawmills, who buy logs on the open market, Mr. Rosenberg said producers of an estimated 90 per cent of the market logs in the area have filed with the timber administrator prices for various classes and grades of logs which they propose to put into effect if ceilings are removed and which they have undertaken will not be exceeded for the time being.

The board has had investigated the position of the producers of market logs in the Vancouver forest district, he said, and is satisfied that some adjustment in ceiling prices is necessary if production is to be maintained and if operators are to earn reasonable margins.

"After consultation with loggers and log-buying mills a great majority of opinion on both sides was that it would be preferable to exempt the sale of sawlogs

Membership Drive Of Y.M.C.A. Breaks 7-Year Record

With an incomplete count already showing 500 new members, Frank Paulding, Y.M.C.A. general secretary, was able to tell the executive at the monthly meeting Monday night that a seven-year record was broken in Y.M.C.A. October membership drives last month.

Mr. Paulding, in his comprehensive brief covering all phases of the association's activities, said that while the final count had not been compiled the drive to date showed an increase of 113 members over the total secured in the same month last year.

Warren Martin, who represented the local "Y" at the national council meeting, submitted his report and as a result a special meeting of the executive was called for Friday at noon to discuss certain recommendations of the council and the possibilities of getting a new building for the Victoria association.

Mr. Paulding's report showed that many former members had returned to civilian life from the forces and had come back into the membership fold to enjoy the many features offered on the Y.M.C.A. program.

"We have helped quite a number of repats to get back into physical shape, which gives us a great deal of satisfaction and is most appreciated by the boys and their families," he said.

SWIM CLASSES POPULAR

The secretary spoke of the unusual amount of interest being shown in swimming classes. There were 325 individuals participating, from youthful male and female, beginners to veteran experts of both sexes.

This was an all-time high for the Victoria association. Tributes were paid by Mr. Paulding to Ina Salmon, Algen Smyth and Joan Morgan for their excellent contribution toward teaching swimming to children. He also pointed with pride to the fine successes scored by "Y" swimmers in the two galas held this season.

Mr. Paulding sketched the activities and progress being made in numerous other departments of the program, during which he stated that the enrollment in the public speaking branch was the highest in many years. Five groups were functioning.

Improvements to the appearance of the interior and exterior of the association building were detailed.

Turning to the war service department, Mr. Paulding said that attendance of uniformed personnel at the Red Triangle Club and in the building showed a marked increase in October. No less than 16,000 individuals utilized the facilities of the building.

Repatriated prisoners of war entertained by the Y.M.C.A. "came here in large numbers and were most grateful and delighted with the hospitality shown them by our ladies' auxiliary."

Dealing with the Community Chest, Mr. Paulding reported from the ceiling rather than to raise ceilings.

Mr. Rosenberg said the prices proposed by the producers were reasonable and "will be absorbed by the purchasers of market logs."

Forest Department officials pointed out that the lifting of the ceiling on logs would not raise the retail price of lumber since the ceilings on retail sales still held.

WILL KEEP CLOSE CHECK

Mr. Rosenberg said the timber administrator would keep a close check on the log prices and would not hesitate to reimpose ceiling prices immediately if it appears that prices increase unreasonably.

The sawmill operators are considered in a good position to absorb any price increases in logs since their spread is much greater than that of the logging concerns.

Least profitable market for logs at the present is the domestic market since the ceilings are considered comparatively low.

Exporters to the United Kingdom, biggest foreign consumer of B.C. lumber, are permitted a higher price than for the domestic market while exporters to the U.S. secure the 10 per cent exchange on the Canadian dollar.

Forestry Department officials thought the administrator of timber would reimpose the sawlog ceiling if it became too much of a hardship for small operators.

"Where mills and ships begin, there has been a strong tendency for sawmills to link their operations with logging so that most of the large log consumers in B.C. today have their own log supplies or have contracted for logs."

Among the smaller outfits, a considerable number buy logs on the open market.

President Outlines Navy League Work For Seamen, Cadets

"The battles of war are over, but the battle against starvation, disease, cold and privation still rages and is a challenge to the world," said David H. Gibson, C.B.E., Dominion president of the Navy League, speaking in conjunction with Navy Week.

"Where rails and ships begin, that is where the Navy League of Canada plays an important role in our national life, for it is here that it offers its facilities to the merchant, seamen and recreation and entertainment to naval ratings."

Mr. Gibson stated summer camps for sea cadets, which are operated in co-operation with the navy, had proven a boon to many young Canadians and the numbers expected for next summer would be greater than during the war years.

This evening Prince Robert House is open to the public. Tea was served this afternoon.

COLLEGE OPEN TOMORROW

On Wednesday, the Royal Naval College will be open to visitors from 1:30 to 5:30 in the afternoon. The program at the college will include a gymnastic display, special boats which will be available to take parties for sailing trips, and a special demonstration of the regular morning parade.

Programs will be issued free of charge at the gate. The public is asked to use the Belmont main gate and not the entrance on the Sooke Road.

On Thursday, the R.C.N. band will make short marches in the city at 2:30 in the afternoon, a short concert will be held outside the Nelson's Bay store on Douglas Street.

The band will then march along Douglas Street to View Street, where it will give another short concert outside, David Spencer Ltd.

From there, the band will proceed on to Prince Robert House, where it will play again, and then go, via Broughton Street to Government Street to play in front of the Parliament Buildings, and then back along Government to H.M.C.S. Malahat.

The Canadian Club has asked Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, Canadian Army commander, to address the club while visiting the coast in January, Frank J. Sehl, secretary, said today. Gen. Crerar will address the annual meeting of the Vancouver Board of Trade on Jan. 29.

That after a successful campaign ending Oct. 19 the total money collected was $82,000, which compared favorably with $83,000 the previous year, as the Salvation Army received $8,000 of that sum and was this year running its own campaign.

Placing of Nigel Nixon on the staff as program secretary, was reported.

Governor Launches Salvation Army Appeal With $1,000

A $1,000 donation from Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward launched the special names' division canvass, Monday, of the Salvation Army Home Front Appeal, under general chairmanship of Maj. Gen. R. O. Alexander, C.B., D.S.O.

Objective is $30,000, and the general appeal will be held from Nov. 26 to Dec. 8.

Encouraging results in the first day's canvass in the special names' division was reported by Waldo M. Skillings, chairman. Industrial and employees' division under Geoffrey H. Walton, held its final meeting in campaign headquarters, 1218 Government St., at Monday afternoon, when various firms were allocated.

Lt.-Cmdr. David C. Decker, chairman of the navy division, said that an aggressive canvass of the dockyard began today. Federal division is under chairmanship of W. J. Bowerman.

Gen. Alexander will speak over C.I.V.I. at 8:15 tonight, and a meeting of all division chairmen will be held this afternoon to complete details for the general canvass starting Monday.

MacDonald's Death Great Loss to B.C.

Premier John Hart said today that in the death of Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, who died early Monday, British Columbia had lost a great public figure.

Dr. MacDonald will be buried Wednesday at Royal Oak following services starting at 9 at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Oak Bay, at which Father J. K. Buckley will officiate. Prayers will be said at 8 tonight at the church.

Attending the funeral services Wednesday will be all members of the provincial executive. Vernon City, where Dr. MacDonald allowed since 1905, will be represented by W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, a former resident of the city who was asked to attend as time prohibited a representative coming from the interior.

"Through his period of administration as minister of agriculture, which dates back to Nov. 15, 1933, said Premier Hart, Dr. MacDonald has given great leadership and has contributed much to the agricultural development of this province, in addition to contributing wise counsel both at the meetings of the cabinet and of the provincial Legislature."

Chinese Communist Forces Invading Manchurian Capital

CHUNGKING (AP)—Chinese Communist troops were reported invading Manchuria's capital in force today in a race with rival Nationalist soldiers, already 35 miles inside the vital industrial territory after a breakthrough in the south.

The China Times said 4,000 Communist troops had entered the capital of Changchun, but did not say whether Russian occupation forces still were in the city.

The Times also said without confirmation elsewhere that new conferences between China and Russia on the tense Manchurian situation would begin soon, either in Moscow or Chungking.

Prospects in Ford Strike Brighter

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Prospects of an early settlement of the Ford Motor Company union security strike reached a new high today when a two-hour union-company meeting ended with the announcement a further conference was scheduled for tomorrow "with a view to laying the basis for settlement of the dispute."

Today's meeting was a continuation of discussions which started Monday, and which created a noticeably improved atmosphere in the relations of the two parties in the dispute, which centres about a union shop and check-off.

James Hilton Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Galina Hilton said she couldn't get along with her author-husband, James Hilton, because "for the last two years he has been very temperamental. He would sit at the radio and just not talk. He was irritable and would try to pick a quarrel, always over trivial things. He had a peculiar manner sometimes, not only of speaking but of looking at you. Well—you'd rather be slapped."

After her testimony Judge Frank G. Swain granted her an uncontested divorce decree on grounds of cruelty.

FORGIVING NATURE WAS SHOWN BY
MARCUS AURELIUS

Great and good men have held public office at various times in the world's history. Always they have won many friends, and have been honored by those friends.

Yet there have been few men, if any, who have held power without finding enemies in their path. Often these enemies have been extremely bitter in their words and in their deeds.

Marcus Aurelius had one main desire when he came to the throne of the Roman empire. He wanted to work for the good of all the people. Of his own wish he shared the throne with his younger brother.

Marcus met with troubles during the 19 years he was emperor, but time and again he proved that he was willing to forgive his enemies. Perhaps the most serious trouble was a rebellion led by a general named Avidius Cassius. The general was killed by a man in his own camp, and the rebellion failed.

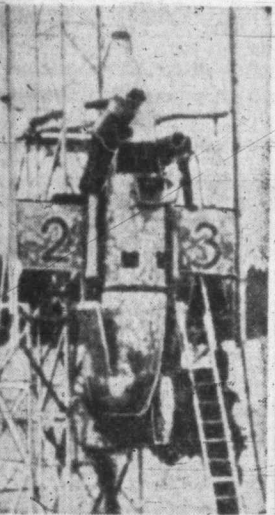

Riding to the camp, Marcus said that he was sorry Cassius had lost his life. By order of the emperor, the papers left by Cassius were destroyed so the proof of others guilty in the plot would be lost. All were for-

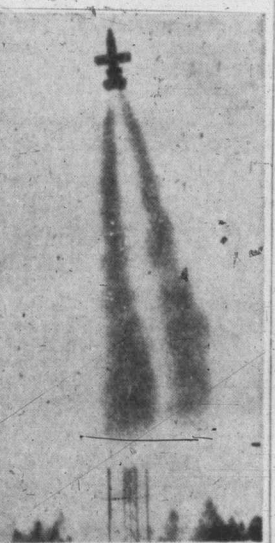

Former enemies swarming around Marcus Aurelius, given their misdeeds, and those who had been enemies crowded around their ruler to do him honor.

Marcus Aurelius was a man with peace in his heart, but it seemed that the world never would give him peace. Around the northern borders of the Roman empire were tribes which were trying to break across and take the land. Hating war though he did, the emperor felt it to be his duty to guard his people against attacks.

GEN. TOMOYUKI YAMASHITA... called "The Tiger of Malaya" and "The Scourge of the Philippines," deserved well his grim nicknames according to testimony of witness after witness who detailed atrocities committed during his command of the Philippines between Oct. 9, 1944, and Sept. 2, 1945. When U.S. forces advanced on Manila and the Japanese retreat, the beaten armies under his command, engaged in wanton murder, rape and destruction throughout the city.

During the early years of his reign, Marcus arranged that the emperor—Verus—should command the Roman armies. He said that he, himself, would rather stay at Rome to watch over the welfare of the public.

Verus went forth on a campaign in the northeast. He failed to show much skill, but he had good generals under him and the campaign was a success.

The DOCTOR Says:

MILITARY GAINS IN CONTROL OF GANGRENE
By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Gas gangrene, a complication of wounds and compound fractures, is caused by germs which generate gas in the tissues. Military experience with gas gangrene has resulted in development of many lifesaving measures, according to Lt. Col. Francis H. Langley and Capt. Lawrence B. Winkelstein, M.C., A.U.S., who review their experience with 96 cases treated in an evacuation hospital in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Gas gangrene as a complication of wounds apparently was as common in World War II as it was in World War I, although complete reports are not yet available.

TENSION IS SYMPTOM

Gas infection is suspected when a wound develops a feeling of tension, heaviness or tightness under the dressing. Shortly afterward the patient shows signs of toxemia with definite mental changes. In more advanced cases the skin of the entire body develops a peculiar color change which varies from extreme pallor to a bronzed tint. As the infection progresses the pulse becomes rapid, the temperature rises, and the toxic absorption from the gas gangrene germs causes grave blood destruction and anemia.

In early cases the wound does not show many changes, although it appears to be more swollen than usual. Sometimes the accumulation of gas in the tissue crackles when rubbed by the fingers, but this is not always the case. The odor of the wound resembles decaying meat, and patients may notice this as soon as the gas gangrene germs attack the tissues.

X-ray examination of the injured part often shows accumulations of gas along tissue planes. Pus from the wound contains the germs, but the most characteristic feature is the greenish-brown swollen dead muscle tissues.

DIRT HASTENS INFECTION

Gas gangrene can develop from six hours to four days after injury. Wounds left uncovered in contact with clothing, dirt and soil are most likely to develop gas gangrene than those which are properly covered.

Prompt treatment of gas gangrene may be lifesaving. Wounds should be thoroughly cleansed and all dead tissue removed as soon as possible. Shock and anemia are treated, and sulfa drugs and penicillin given. Although sulfa drugs are not of much value in gas gangrene, penicillin is of great help. Special antitoxin is useful in combating the toxemia after the infection develops.

Many limbs have been saved by removal of dead tissue from the wound and giving penicillin, although it may be necessary to amputate if the infection is too extensive.

Practical lessons to be learned from our pitiful experience with gas gangrene is to cover all wounds with first aid dressings, to cleanse them thoroughly, to remove foreign material and dead tissue as soon as possible, and to start penicillin at the first indication of trouble.

win in Warner Bros. "Rhapsody in Blue," now at the Capitol Theatre. That made exactly 19 more changes than Joan Leslie, his feminine co-star, has in the picture, which radically reverses the ordinary rule that the screen women out-dress the men.

The scope of Gershwin's career, rather than his sartorial tastes, made the record wardrobe necessary. Alda is making his screen debut in the Warner musical biography.

In "Casanova Brown," International Pictures' new comedy starring Gary Cooper and Teresa Wright, it is necessary to burn down a Long Island mansion. Photographically, the fire is a great success, but actually, not a thing is destroyed. To conserve valuable materials, the mansion was first fireproofed, and the $18,000 replica preserved for future use. Nunnally Johnson produced the picture for RKO Radio release which is now at the Cadet Theatre.

OAK BAY & PLAZA THEATRES

A heart-warming bit of Americana is "The Southerner," the Jean Renoir production which is currently at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, starring Zachary Scott and Betty Field. Adapted from George Sessions Perry's prize-winning novel "Hold Autumn In Your Hand," it is the story of a sturdy young migratory cotton picker whose love of the land gives him the courage to forsake this doubtful security for the bitter battle with nature that is the lot of the man who raises his own crops.

One of the most poignant moments in the film is the scene showing Sam Tucker and his little family lighting the first fire in the crude shack that is the beginning of the peace and security Sam hopes to wrest from the soil. Although we don't see it, we know that he is going to win.

Symphony Orchestra Scores Musical Triumph

By AUDREY S.D. JOHNSON

Last night's concert by the Victoria Symphony Orchestra drew a capacity audience to the Royal Victoria Theatre for what was probably one of the most outstanding events in the musical history of the city. Those present heard a growing orchestra (53 musicians as against 45 at the beginning of last season), playing more ambitious music and playing it extraordinarily well.

As an auspicious opening to its fifth season, the society presented Madame Gertrude Huntly, internationally-celebrated pianist, in the Grieg A minor Concerto. Under the vital, sensitive leadership of Melvin Knudson, the orchestra gave splendid support to the solo piano, blending and unifying phrases with smooth efficiency, picking up crescendo passages cleanly and building them up to stirring climaxes.

STIRRING PERFORMANCE

As a pianist, Madame Huntly has dynamic qualities rare in a woman and which, together with her deep poetic sense, are particularly well suited to the performance of the Grieg with its atmosphere of mysticism and high exaltation. A fine sympathy between pianist and orchestra was demonstrated again and again. The delicate entrance of the piano after the introduction of the slow movement by sweetly ringing muted strings was exquisite. In the final majestic climax, nobility and breadth were achieved by soloist and orchestra to conclude a brilliant and stirring performance.

An enthusiastic ovation was accorded Madame Huntly, to which she responded with two encores, the Chopin A flat Polonaise and Waltz in D flat.

The opening overture, "The Bartered Bride" (Smetana), was arresting in its splendid rhythmic clarity. The sincerity and depth of understanding that characterizes the orchestra and its conductor were instantly apparent in this number. The very beautiful string section, which has recently been much strengthened in the viola and violoncelli group, was heard to great advantage in the arrangement of "Walther's Frize Song" from Meistersinger, and also in the Gavotte and Air from the Suite in D (Bach).

Liadow's charming novelty, "The Music Box," and the three dances from the "Nutcracker Suite" brought the fine performance of flautists and harpist into prominence.

PART OF COMMUNITY LIFE

For the splendid achievement of five years of hard work, Victoria can thank Melvin Knudson, whose gifts and training as a conductor are of the highest order, as well as the earnest, devoted musicians who comprise the orchestra. A large share of praise must also belong to the committee which has planned and tolled and stood behind the orchestra solidly and which must have thrilled with pride Sunday night when it realized that the first milestones have been passed and that the Victoria Symphony Orchestra is now a popular and significant part of the community life.

Alberni Students Seek New High School

PORT ALBERNI—In a guest editorial on the front page of the West Coast Advocate, the students' council of the Alberni District High School made a plea for a new junior-senior high school, condemning the heating, lighting, ventilation and lack of space in the present quarters.

Owing to the space problem grade nine classrooms have been using the army camp, where temperature during classes has dropped to 48 degrees according to the students' council. They contended that the health inspector from Victoria had condemned the lighting at the army camp.

"We are desperately in need of space. The enrollment this year has risen to a new high, but the space available remains the same. The auditorium has become practically useless because of its size and its use as a classroom. The laboratory is small enough as it is, but it is even worse with stationary desks in the way of all experiments."

"The material in the library because it is also being used as a classroom—is slowly being ruined. Our coats are on the floor—there are not enough hangers; and as for recreational facilities—they are too minor to warrant mention."

Stating that Alberni District High was one of the few accredited high schools on the island the students asked that the school not lose that standing because facilities were not available to carry out the stipulations for an accredited school.

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

A VICTORIA mother, whose aim was to keep her life while bombing enemy targets in France last year, has just received one of the most moving letters I have ever seen.

Anxious to get some details of her boy's death, she wrote in July of this year to the mayor of the little village of Cour l'Evêque, Haute Marne, where the tragedy took place. The mayor, George Caumont, typical head of a tiny French rural community, answered her letter on Aug. 30.

Written in badly-spelled French, it gives a touching picture of the tender and reverent care given to fallen Allied heroes by the peasants of France, often at great risk to themselves.

CHASED BY GERMANS

THE MAYOR'S letter, translated literally, reads thus:

"During the night of July 13, 1944, a formation of bombers came through on its way to bombard the target of Châlons. This formation was chased by German night-fighters.

"At 11 o'clock when everyone was asleep, there was an explosion. We all got up. At that very moment a plane goes by at a terrific speed and crashes. Several explosions take place but no one dares go out of the village, a German post being close by the place of the crash.

"On July 14 the 14 men formed a patrol to go and search for the plane and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon they informed me that it had been found that there were seven dead.

"From what I saw and made out they were all killed before they crashed by the explosion of the motor because they all had their parachutes on their backs.

GAVE THEIR SHEETS

THE VILLAGERS, at once secured a car and brought the dead back to their City Hall. The letter continues:

"I informed the Germans at once, as I could not do anything without their orders. When they arrived and saw what had happened I asked them what I should do about the burial and they answered me I was free to do as I pleased.

"Right away I had oak coffins made, some young men dug the graves in the cemetery, some kind charitable ladies gave sheets to wrap up the boys.

"And on the 16th of July the seven coffins, carried by young men and followed by all the delegations and members of the neighboring towns and surrounding villages and covered with flowers, were buried in our cemetery.

"It was a very moving ceremony which took place. The officiating minister being the Priest Dean of Arc en Barrois, who serves our village."

DID EVERYTHING POSSIBLE

THOSE KINDLY villagers did everything possible for those gallant lads who had made the supreme sacrifice. As the mayor puts it:

"I can assure you that everything was done the best way. We identified the bodies one after the other, we looked for all the things that should go back to the families; they were all placed in numbered boxes with the numbers of the graves on them.

"I could not say just what was found on your son, because I gave the boxes to Captain Lebas, a delegate from the British Air Ministry, who had come to identify the crew of the plane.

"That was about four months ago. He told me that everything would be sent to the families. I had myself hidden the boxes in case the Germans should come and search my home. I remember finding a watch which had stopped at the exact time of the crash."

ANNIVERSARY TRIBUTE

NOR HAVE THOSE villagers forgotten those brave boys since they performed the last rites, for the letter goes on:

"We have had some wooden crosses made for them and bought each one a marble crucifix.

"On the 13th of July last, the anniversary, all the people came and knelt by the graves, a funeral service was held that day. A committee was formed to erect to their memory a shaft on the very spot where they crashed.

"Here are all the details I can give you. Well, dear Mrs. I am sending you all my deep sympathy and condolences as well as those of my people, for the sacrifice your son made of his life so that we should be liberated."

Out of gratitude, the bereaved Victoria mother sent two parcels to the mayor as a tiny token of her appreciation of his kindness.

GRATEFUL FOR GIFTS

SHE HAS JUST received this letter in acknowledgment, written on Sept. 29, which reads in part:

"I thank you very much for all you have done for us, everything has given us much pleasure, especially after being deprived of all those things for four whole years.

"Everything will be most useful these days as the Germans have taken all we had. Nothing is left in the shops, and everything is an exorbitant price.

"So once more many thanks, and rest assured that the graves of our aviators are well kept up with fresh flowers, and that on the first of November, the Day of the Dead, we shall all go to the cemetery and visit the graves and thus take the place of their families who cannot be there."

COSTING TOO MUCH

WRITTEN ON BEHALF of a community which, deprived of its necessities, yet gave up precious sheets that those dead lads might take their last sleep in comfort, the letter concludes:

"Please do not deprive yourself for us, those parcels are costing you too much." I am not ashamed to admit that I wept over that moving letter. Not only at the thought of what it must have meant to the lads—and other bereaved relatives.

But at the thought of what the people of France and the other liberated countries have gone through in the last six years, as compared with us who have been spared their poignant experiences.
